New Castle Fair Most Successful In Local History

Closing Day Finds Crowds Of Preceding Days Again Repeated

NEARLY 22,000 AT FAIR TWO DAYS

Judges Complete Work Of Making Awards For Many Exhibits

Record crowds, totaling 21,209 for the first two exhibition days of New Castle Fair, which far exceeds the attendance on these two days last, is the way the local fair is going over the top, according to Kathryn L. Klee, assistant secretary of the Lawrence County Fair Association.

From early morning until late last night crowds were on the grounds, swarming up and down Midway, the grandstand was filled and although as evening approached many left for their homes, others seeking the fun of the night fair took their places.

Last Day of Fair

Today, the last day of the fair, bids fairly well to also show a record crowd, although the last day is not accustomed to show as large a crowd as the other days. Not long after daylight school children from the country districts began to arrive, prepared for a full day, and by noon autos began to fill up the parking spaces and the weather seems inviting another crowd out for the last day of the fair.

The airplane in the tragedy last evening, in which one man was killed and two others severely injured in a crash near the entrance of the fair grounds, is attracting quite a crowd of curious ones. The plane and the property of the farmer have been protected by a "no tresspassing" sign and guards.

Some Awards

So large were the herds of dairy cattle to be judged yesterday that only two classes were completed, the Jerseys and Guernseys, while the Holsteins are being judged today. In the class of Jerseys the grand champion ribbon for bulls was won by Hyllmede Farm of Beaver, whose entries also won the senior championship in the bulls and the junior championship of the heifers. John Porter of Sandy Lake carried away the junior championship of the bulls. The entries of Homer B. Slegel of Poland, O., took the senior and grand championships of Jersey heifers.

The entries of Charles Brenneman of Plaingrove took the senior and grand championship of the Guernsey bulls, while the animal of J. H. Moser of Chicora, Pa., took the junior championship. Entries of W. R. Fox of Enon Valley took the senior, junior and grand championships in the Guernsey heifer class.

The chief awards in the swine department were the championships. In the class of Berkshires, J. W. Tait and Sons, of Mercer, won the senior and grand champion ribbons in both boars and sows, while A. Y. McConaghy of New Castle won the junior championships in both sows and boars.

S. F. Tait and son of Mercer won the grand, junior and senior championships in both sows and boars of the Chester White class.

In the class of Poland China Harlon Wilson won the grand and senior champion ribbons for boars, while A.

A more conservative estimate was given by Charles M. Talbert, vice president of the Standard Underwriters' Agency here, who said $50,000,000 would cover the loss.

HUNDREDS MORE ON INJURED LIST AS RESULT OF TORNADO THAT SWEPT ACROSS ST. LOUIS

Damage As Result Of Storm Is Estimated In Millions—Relief Work Well Under Way—Rescuers Search For Victims In Debris—Six Square Miles of City Devastated By Tornado.

By JAMES R. CONNOR JR.
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 30.—With 75 known dead from yesterday's tornado, at least 700 injured at private homes and hospitals, and property damage mounting to more than $20,000,000, the spirit of St. Louis and its people today surmounted all handicaps in relief work, brought succor to storm distressed citizens and arranged for the rehabilitation of those whose loved ones and homes were lost.

"We asked for aid from St. Louis residents and the response has been so great we do not need outside help," Mayor Victor J. Miller said today after his appeal for funds to residents here had been broadcast. "The regular army from Jefferson barracks here is scheduled this afternoon to relieve some of our policemen and national guardsmen who have been on duty since yesterday afternoon, but our local Red Cross and other relief agencies have met the emergency relief situation nobly."

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 30.—With a death toll reaching to 75, with hundreds of injured in hospitals and at private homes, and a property damage estimated to be at least thirty million dollars, St. Louis today swung into rehabilitating the damage done by the tornado and rain storm which yesterday afternoon ripped through scattered sections of the West Side, creating general havoc over the entire city.

After a night of relief work supervised by the Red Cross, with rescue and patrol duties being taken care of by police and national guardsmen, and the Secretary of War sending eight hundred soldiers from Jefferson Barracks to patrol and guard the devastated districts, an appeal for funds to help in relief work was issued by Mayor Victor J. Miller as follows:

Call For Aid

"To the people of St. Louis"

"An emergency need affecting hundreds of our fellow St. Louisians exists as the result of yesterday's storm.

"After personally surveying as much of the area as the debris and wreckage would permit, I feel that the extent of the havoc and the consequent suffering makes this call for immediate relief necessary.

"Through the splendid response of the police, the fire department, the American Red Cross, the National Guard, the American Legion and other organizations, the wounded and suffering are being cared for.

"It is difficult in the first flush of the disaster to measure the fullest extent of the sufferings or to estimate the ultimate requirements for complete alleviation. These facts can be ascertained for later use. The fact that there are homeless victims to be housed, provisioned and clothed until mature plans for rehabilitation can be arrived at makes an immediate and liberal response on the part of our own citizens necessary.

"The acknowledged great national agency—the American Red Cross—being so thoroughly equipped by experience and supplied with a staff to administer this relief, I, as mayor am asking for the sake of single effectiveness that all aid be concentrated in this organization.

"Dollars are the necessary and immediate need.

"Subscriptions can be made through any bank or mailed to Mr. Fred Oltman acting treasurer of the American Red Cross, St. Louis Chapter, care of the Mercantile Trust Co.

"Let every citizen respond in the name of those unfortunate St. Louisians who have given shoulder to shoulder with you in many other worthy causes.

Union Miners Are Balked By Court Ruling

Judge Schoonmaker Issues Temporary Injunction Against Union

FORCED TO STOP ALL PICKETING

Important Victory For Non-Union Mines Seen In Federal Court Ruling

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—The United Mine Workers of America suffered their worst defeat of the present bituminous coal strike when Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker today issued a temporary injunction restraining the union from interfering with operation of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation's non-union mines.

Granting of the temporary injunctions means that the United Mine Workers' organization is restrained temporarily at least from picketing the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation's several mines in this region.

The Terminal corporation is the largest union coal operator in the country to renounce the union and endeavor to operate its mines with non-union labor since the bituminous miners walked out on April 1, at the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement.

Philip Murray, international vice president of the miners' union, received first information that the injunction had been granted from International News Service.

Severely Contested Case.

"I will have to examine the injunction," Murray said, "before I can make any comment."

Judge Schoonmaker found that the element of interference with interstate commerce does enter into the controversy and that therefore the federal court has jurisdiction in the case.

This point was severely contested at the hearing which preceded the issuance of the temporary injunction, by attorneys for the union miners who held that their efforts to reduce the output of coal at the non-union mines of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation could not be construed

It seems so silly on days like these to be working and stewing about, and I know that as far as I'm able to judge, most of us would like to be out. Out on the road in a speeding car or out where the fairways are green, or out where the gridders are milling about, or out where the mountains are seen. Out where the sun and the wind are at play, out in the great open places, out where the mountains reach up to the sun, in the limitless, measureless spaces. But instead of all that we must work every day, and hark to the call of the job, but this weather continues to ruin our peace and with most of minds raising hob. On a day such as this there is plenty to do, but wouldn't you much sooner play, for a fellow can work when the weather is bad, its seventy-seven today

Advance Gifts Committee Is Nearly Completed

Community Chest Fund Campaign Is Being Arranged For

Although the organization of the Advanced Gift committee of the Community Chest fund lacks three or four members, yet there is a healthy enthusiasm pervading in the minds of the workers, says Herbert Peairs, who is in charge of the drive.

Never before in the history of the New Castle Community Chest has the work been as well organized or as nicely handled. Heretofore, captains, team leaders, and team workers have been chosen just as they could be found. This year each agency participating in the Community Chest is responsible for their own workers. Each agency must also provide their own workers, thus eliminating the chance that any particular group bear the brunt of the work.

The advisory board has been chosen by these representatives of the participating agencies, eliminating any chance of favoritism being shown in the distribution of funds. Every organization contributes time and man power toward the success of filling their own requirements and also the chest as a whole.

"The Community Chest is just what the name implies," avers Herbert Peairs.

"It is the central clearing house for the ten participating agencies. It accomplishes three things of utmost importance.

"First, by uniting and combining the executive and clerical work, of ten units into one, it saves a great deal of expense. Second, by this coordination, it saves considerable time and man power. Third, it relieves the givers of a great deal of annoyance and pestering.

"One gift at one time instead of ten calls from the individual organizations is the aim of the chest. The Community Chest is the hub of the great social wheel. The participating organizations are the spokes in this wheel. The donors are the tire and the rim.

"We can, if we will, put a good heavy rim on the social wheel, and also, if the community stands back of us, a nice rubber tire in addition.

"Everyone should give freely and willingly; it is for the benefit of all."

State Apple Crop Lower This Year

By GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.—Pennsylvania state's commercial apple crop will be less than half of that of last year the Bureau of Agricultural Economics predicted today.

According to the bureau's estimates the Keystone state will have a toal commercial crop of 814,000 barrels as compared with 1,796,000 barrels last year.

"Pennsylvania's apple crop is very short' the bureau says, "approximating one-half of last year's crop. A great deal of scab has developed on many blocks of fruit although serious scab infection is not general with the leading fruit growers in the state. However russeting has developed, greatly on the Grimes, Ben Davis and certain varieties. So far there has been a limited demand for apples The growers and buyers in many cases have been unable to agree on a price. Unless there develops a stronger demand from outside buyers within a few weeks many of the blocks will be disposed of at a considerably lower figure than growers hoped to realize for their fruit.'

The same situation prevails in all of the so-called eastern barrel apple states and the commercial crop in the east is estimated at 12,328,000 barrels as compared with 24,772,000 barrels last year. Production in the northwest or box apple states also will be lighter than last year estimated crop this year being 11,870,000 barrels as against 14,630,000 barrels harvested last year.

as interfering with interstate commerce.

The injunction was granted as requested by the coal company's counsel, except that "the court is of the opinion that it should not enjoin any of the individual defendants from prosecuting in the state courts any appeal now pending in the courts," this with reference to the miners' protests against eviction of union men from company owned houses.

With reference to the National Surety company, which has been furnishing bond for appeals from eviction suits, Judge Schoonmaker said: "We undertake to restrain it by preliminary injunction only from going on additional bonds at the behest of the United Mine Workers.

The injunction stated: "The cause of averments in the bill of complaint of the existence of a general conspiracy and intent on the part of the defendant to interfere with the production of coal in all non-union mines in the central competitive field, western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, coupled with the allegation of the intent thereby to keep non-union coal out of the interstate market, in order that the coal output of unionized mines should have a monopoly of interstate coal markets and the allegation of special and particular conspiracy to keep from interstate markets coal produced at all non-union mines in the Pittsburgh district—all of this with intent to interfere with and prevent interstate commerce in coal produced at non-union mines in the Pittsburgh district—we cannot agree that facts alleged in the bill show merely an interference with the mining of coal.

"These allegations are clearly sufficient to set forth the character and nature of the conspiracy and the intent and purpose for which it was entered into."

London To Be Electric At End Of 20 Years

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Twenty years hence London will be an "all-electric" by reason of the far-reaching schemes now being carried out by the government.

All energy, providing light, heat, and power, will be electrical in its origin and factory smoke will be unknown. London's fog, dirt and murkiness will have passed into oblivion.

This new great improvement will be undertaken by the Central Electrical board, which has been set up by the state. It will have control of Treasury funds up to $165,000,000 and its first duty will be to link up all existing electrical undertakings thruout the country.

The London scheme will take in the country within an eighty mile radius of the capital, and three enormous new generating stations will be erected and finished within the next two or three years. The existing 79 generating stations will then be reduced to ten. It is expected that the changes in London will cost about $50,000,000.

When the scheme is completed, it is anticipated that the British consumer will obtain his electricity at one cent per unit.

Local War Vets In Paris Parade

Six Legionnaires From This City Took Part In Big Demonstration

(Special To The News)
(By Orville Brown)

PARIS, France, Sept. 20.—Now that the tumult and the shouting have died, and the Legionnaires have departed, many of them, for the peace time tour of France, one fact stands out as the feature of the Legion convention here and that is, that there has been a friendlier feeling cemented between France and the United States.

Styled the "largest peace time invasion in the world's history" the Legion convention has revived the brotherhood between the two nations which was apparent in 1917-18 but which has cooled somewhat since then. The Americans took France by storm in 1917 and 1918, they did the same thing in 1927, and every Legionairre here can go back feeling that he has been an "Ambassador of peace".

Parade Indescribable

The Legion parade down the boulevards of Paris was simply indescribable. Bands blaring, American soldiers singing, flags flying and a million Parisians lining the sidewalks shouting "vive le Americain".

Perhaps no parade in the history of France was so enthusiastically cheered as was the Legion parade. Any feeling against Americans which may have been held before vanished before that onslaught of good will and Paris went wild.

Pennsylvania had the largest delegation in line in the parade, although not so many bands as some states—New Castle was represented by six men. Commander Harry M. Long of the Perry S. Gaston Post, George Smith, John Shaw and myself, and in addition, two men whom we met in Paris, Roy Carruthers, salesman of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company and Stanley Smith, salesman for the Lehigh Portland Cement Co.

Following the parade the various delegations made arrangements to tour France and probably no town in France but has had its share of American visitors. The Yanks wanted to get back to the little towns where they were billeted in 1918 but this time they were not forced to sleep in pig pens and cattle sheds.

CANADA GROWS ON EXPORTS

IN POPULATION Canada is said to be growing at about the rate of growth of the United States a century ago. Sixty years ago the Dominion's population was 3,500,000. Now it is 10,000,000. Since the war the rate of growth has been greatly accelerated.

Canada's population is 55 per cent English-speaking, 28 per cent French and 17 per cent miscellaneous races, chiefly from Southern Europe. British and Americans make up the English-speaking part of the population. Her immigrants now come chiefly from England, the United States and continental Europe. This explains why so many of those who come to this country from Canada as "Canadians" are of European birth.

Development of wheat lands and exploitation of mineral and timber resources farther north are extending the Canadian frontier northward from the international boundary, opening up new areas for settlement and increasing the country's exports. Already Canada is a strong competitor of this country in the wheat, mineral and lumber markets of the world and threatens competition in other lines.

Canada's foreign trade, which sixty years ago amounted to $120,000,000, now reaches the annual total of $2,300,000,000. For Canada, however, this is not an entirely wholesome sign for it indicates a weak home market, due to the small population. Unlike her friendly neighbor, Canada is almost wholly dependent upon healthy foreign markets.

Another ominous phase of Canadian exports is her shipment of paper and lumber. She is permitting the world to exhaust her precious forests. However, she is not making the mistake, made by this country, of waiting until the supply is virtually exhausted before beginning reforestation.

TOO MANY TECHNICALITIES

THEORETICALLY, the new football rule relating to the fumbled ball may improve the game, but in actual practice it seems to serve no other purpose than to addle players and spectators. It is significant that only football "experts" and coaches are defending it.

Under the new rule, if a back passes the ball to another back and the ball is then fumbled, it is a dead ball and the play must start over again. But if it is passed from the center to one of the backs and fumbled, or if it is fumbled by one of the backs making a run, then it is a free ball and anybody can scoop it up and race with it for a touchdown.

Glenn S. Warner, the famous coach, believes the rule will make the game more interesting for the players and spectators by promoting more reverse or crisscross plays and double reverses or triple-pass plays.

Perhaps so. But to the thinking of the average gridiron fan it will lead to a good deal of confusion and nothing else. Often the player will not know whether to pounce on a fumbled ball and run with it or to let it bounce and wait for the referee to take charge of it. And the spectator will never know whether to be excited when he sees a fumble, or merely bored.

New Rules are making football more unintelligible and confusing every year. Once a kick was a kick, a fumble a fumble and a touchdown a touchdown. Now a fumble is a fumble on one page of the book of rules and a dead ball on the next page, and a kick is not a kick until a player on the other side touches the ball.

Football should take a leaf out of the book of baseball's experience and resist every effort to change the fundamental rules of the game. Perhaps it will when it becomes a little older as a popular pastime. It must be remembered that football only recently captured the popular fancy.

OCTOBER

IT TAKES a nip of frost to bring the ripening apple to full bloom, and a change of seasons to put the true joy of life into man. The sweetest song ever sung will become monotonous in time.

October removes the last vestige of our roses and deprives us of the quality in the sun which brought them forth. But October is not all loss. Mother Nature is grinding her wind to a cutting edge, and it is welcome after the sluggish breezes of the summer.

It is this tang in the October air that puts new life into the blood-stream of man. Something whispers to him that play days are over and work days are ahead in earnest.

The heart is no less cheerful in October than it is in June. The poet's dirge over melancholy days is just a bit off key. October means the harvest and, this year, kindly nature has stayed her hand until all is safely gathered in.

Autumn is not the death of the year, but a new beginning. There is always something better just ahead. After the ripening and ingathering comes the transformation. The Frost King's army of engineers is preparing the way for the advance of winter.

Fortunate are they who live in that zone where October is a vivid personality and not a mere name upon the calendar. Happy are they who have time to see the seasons come and go. Blessed are they who can fit their mood to the time, and sing, with Emily Dickinson:

The morns are meeker than they were,
The nuts are getting brown;
The berrys cheek is plumper,
The rose is out of town.
The maple wears a gayer scarf,
The field a scarlet gown.
Lest I should be old-fashioned,
I'll put a trinket on.

The stranger who looks at you in that interested way is preparing to ask if you've gotta match.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:45. Sun rises rises tomorrow 5:56.

When some men say they are doing well they mean they are doing others that way.

Why not let Tunney and Dempsey fight in private to determine which is really the best clouter? It would save a lot of confusion and money but it would mean nothing to the scrappers of course.

Once upon a time when a man went down street he was attracted by the high buildings, the display of window decorations, automobile traffic, the blind man on the corner, but nowadays he sees none of these. All he sees is knees, knees—everywhere, anywhere.

The Hints and Dints man has a great summer pickle recipe. He has published it every fall and a request has been made for it again. These pickles will not keep and must be used within a week after they are made. Take half a gallon of regular vinegar and take an equal amount of water to weaken the vinegar. Take about two cups of rock salt and dissolve it and put it in the vinegar. Take any size pickles or cucumbers and put them in a crock or earthern vessel. The small pickles can be used the next day. It will take longer for the larger ones to get ready to eat. There should be enough of the vinegar to cover all the pickles of course. You will find these better than any of Heinz many varieties. Remember they will not keep—especially if they are around where they can be gotten at easily.

Boys and girls both have rights but the boys have to fight for theirs.

Saying the right thing at the right time and keeping the face closed at the right time are both fine virtues to practice. That is if you are tactful, which so many are not.

The same men who will become angry when compelled to stand five minutes on the corner waiting for a car will stand in line 20 minutes to get a front seat for the follies.

A murdered gunman in St. Paul it has been discovered was the author of about a dozen murders. He was one of the authors we can very well spare and the gent who eliminated him should have a suitable reward.

Bootleggers do not have to know advanced mathematics. English composition or rhetoric to earn a fairly decent living.

Placing your patriotism above partisanship sounds fine, but lots of folks use this expression as a smoke screen to cover their petty lack of sportsmanship when they are disappointed in politics.

Too much liquor has wrecked many a life and then again too much water has wrecked many a ship. What to do?

A Cleveland cop arrested a couple when he found them spooning in an automobile on the streets of that city. The lady in the case brought suit against the city for damages and was awarded several thousand dollars by a jury. It developed that the couple was man and wife and had a right to spoon even if it was unusual for man and wife to do such things. We are betting the next time that cop sees any spooners he will turn his head away.

Most all the actresses coming back home to this country bring back about two dozen more trunks than an elephant has.

When some men are told a secret there are only two parties that know it—the Democrats and the Republicans.

There are a lot of people who resent ones being honest and decent any more. It all depends upon their point of view.

Lack of attention to a wife seems to be as good a cause for shooting as too much attention to other women. Surely the women are hard to satisfy.

The young Reynolds who broke into print a few days ago seems to be starting early. If he wasn't one of the heirs to a large fortune his escapade would scarcely be noticed. We had some people ride the bumpers from here to the Dempsey-Tunney fight but no reward was offered for them.

No man is ready for liberty until he can patronize a cafeteria without picking up more than he can eat.

The next important thing is the expense the candidates were put to to get nominated to office or get licked. But in this county everything was clean and honorable. Down in Pittsburgh a grand jury investigation is threatened. Pittsburgh seems to be trying hard to equal Philadelphia in the matter of elections.

That new Third U. P. church which is to be dedicated on October 16 is a very beautiful church judging from the outside appearance—we haven't been in it yet. And it is a great credit to the east side and the congregation. You can't have too many churches in a city or too many church people. We don't always agree with them but it is a pleasure to do business with those who go to church and believe in their religion. We've dealt with all kinds but give us the church people, of every denomination, as first choice.

That coal strike isn't registering very much with the ordinary consumer. The price of coal hasn't been materially raised so why be concerned over it?

GOOD THINGS TO KEEP

Your head.
Your temper.
Your own counsel.
Your self-respect.
The Sabbath.
The Ten Commandments.
(How many of 'em do you keep?)

Four things a man must learn to do,
If he would make his record true;
To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellow-men sincerely;
To act from honest motives purely;
To trust in God and heaven securely.

NO, NOT SEATTLE

"Vare you going?" asked Fritz, who had just met an old acquaintance on the train.

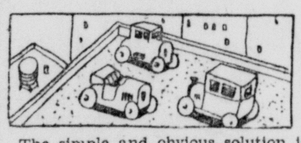
"I'm going to see Ettel," answered the friend.

"Dot's fine, I'm going there too." But at the next station his friend reached for his grip to get off.

"For vhy you get off here? I taught you vas going to Seattle," Fritz inquired.

"Vell, so I am. My Ettel, she lifs here."

It is the pretty general belief now that the woman who dives into the sea of matrimony comes up with a catch of alimony.



The simple and obvious solution is a system of elevators that will turn all roofs into parking space.

The Democrats claim they can sweep the country in the election next year by attacking the record of the Harding - Coolidge administrations. That was tried in 1924 and all they got for their trouble was a whale of a licking. The next campaign will be fought, not on political lines, but on personal lines, with the candidates, what they stand for, and what they are as the principal factors. There are enough independent voters of the country to decide the election and they likely will do so on an independent issue if the party conventions nominate the wrong men.

Dear Hints and Dints: I wrote to my sister in Chicago recently telling her I didn't remember the date of her birthday, but knew it was about due and wanted to wish her many more, etc. And this is what she wrote in return:

"Dear brother: Your letter was duly received and contents noted and believed. What's the use of having birthdays? I have not had one in some time. I met a young policeman the other day who helped me on my winding way. He said, 'Madam how old are you?' I told him I did not know and if he could find out I wished he would let me know. Old Father Time goes hurrying by. I cannot stop him and don't mean to try. My minister says I am not the kind to ever grow old. And he is fine as silk and good as gold. Give my love to yourself and wife and may you sail over life's troubled sea happy all your life. This is the best wish of your sister Ellen." C. B

Editor's note—I am publishing the above because I like its optimistic tone. Yes, why have birthdays? Why grow old? Let's you and I take a solemn resolution that he won't. Ah, that's fine.

The reason a woman more than 50 doesn't have more fun than a man is because women never get more than 50.

If there are any patriots who really and truly want to do something worth while for New Castle they can enlist in the Community Chest Drive which will be on next month. It will help a lot more than some things they are trying to do.

Two Youngstown detectives were indicted by the grand jury for beating up a prisoner. One detective would have been enough to do the clouting.

It is a terrible thing for a motorist to run over a fellow human. It is a thousand times worse when he does it and runs away and does not offer to help pick up the pieces. No time should be wasted on cowards like that. Of course trees are getting scarce but there are lots of poles of all kinds put nearby most any place by the utilities companies and there are many cross arms on each pole. You sabe?

It has been quite a few years since Jak Dempsey became a student in the school of hard knocks.

We heard a candidate for office once who complained bitterly about the lies being told about him. When he was told the worst was yet to come—the truth—he shut up and was quiet until the day he was defeated. The truth is mighty at all times. Most men are afraid of it more than they are of lies.

A Pome.

Down the street
carriage comes.
Horses madly tearing
While within a woman sits—
Calling—Help!
Despairing.
But a ragged tramp
has heard.
Swift the street
he crosses,
Saves her life.
The woman faints,
And then he steals the horses.

'Nother Pome—Better One.

Men have won a nation's praise
Some times they deserve it.
They have served their country well.
Gladly died to save it.
May humble heroes though
Risk their lives unheeded.
Place those lives in jeopardy,
When their help's most needed.

It used to be said that a preacher never could be a practical politician but in these days it is almost necessary to be a good politician to become a preacher.

Mr. Vare from Philadelphia and Mr. Smith from Chicago will be sworn in as senators, whatever may happen later.

Republican high morality would bar them, because too much money was spent in their campaigns. But that was some time ago, before the Dempsey fight. And besides, Republicans have the thinnest kind of senate majority and would have none, if they threw out Smith and Vare.

The two wandering sheep will be sworn in, the senate organized, the Republican morality will make up its mind.

The fact that Pennsylvania and Illinois knew all about the money spending, before the men were elected, makes both cases difficult.

General Summerall tells the country to be ready for war and warns "three months' delay may be fatal."

In Europe it is said, quite calmly, that "Germany will probably not go to war with Poland before 1932."

If the world goes to war again it will prove its insanity. But it has done that often, but sometimes it can't be avoided.

The United States should be ready, in the air, and below the water especially. And there should be a separate cabinet officer, with complete control under the president, of the national air force, interested in nothing but that air force.

Mexico administers punishment swiftly. On Monday Mexican troops killed 40 bandits, caught two and hanged them immediately. That was at Los Cruces. At Tepic, 14 bandits captured alive were immediately lined up in the public square, shot dead, and then hanged to trees with warning placards on each body.

They allow no seven years for Sacco-Vanzetti agitations in Mexico.

Seeking precedents for President Coolidge's "I do not choose," Senator Gillett finds one in the Victorian era, Lord Palmerston, in a bitter political fight with Lord John Russell said, "I do not choose to be rubbed into the dirt by Johnny Russell."

An earlier use was Coleridge's in "The Ancient Mariner". You remember the wedding guest who "beat his breast when he heard the loud bassoon," and the succeeding statement, "the wedding guest sat on a stone, he could not choose but hear, and thus spake on the ancient man, the bright-eyed mariner."

President Coolidge used the best of English, it couldn't be improved on, and it is absolutely definite.

The big automobile fight, expected when Ford starts rolling out his new cars, will be a friendly enemies' fight, according to Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors.

Ford will make a good car, of good value per dollar of price, and will sell a great many of his new cars. General Motors will continue to sell great numbers of its cars, in the various price fields.

The real fight will be, as it should, to increase quality, while cutting cost of production, and giving the public the benefit of lower costs.

Another pertinent fight is to make the public understand that a motor is as much a necessity as feet and hands.

A busy man should have his car always at hand, to save his time. A family needs two cars, at least. And that means no extravagance, for time is worth saving and unlike horses, cars do not eat, when idle.

This country needs 30,000,000 cars now, and following five years' life for each car, that means six million new cars a year indefinitely. There will be plenty of business for the man able to make the right car for that car's right price.

John A. Garcia, able Chicago engineer, says America has false ideas about Russia. Wall Street will show interest when it learns from Mr. Garcia that Russia has real money. A group of men associated with Mr. Garcia have taken contracts, on a cash basis, for 100 million dollars' worth of work in Russia.

Henry Ford, by the way, sells tractors to Russia, several thousand in one shipment, and gets cash before the machines are shipped.

"Russia," says Mr. Garcia, "is one of the richest countries in the world." It is perhaps the richest potentially of all.

If bolshevism can carry on the work begun by Peter the Great, we may yet see branches of New York Stock Exchange houses in Moscow and Leningrad.

The war department controls Lake Michigan's waters and decided that Chicago house must have water meters, to make them economical, and show how much water they use.

Meters were installed, in the tenth ward, but Thursday Mayor Thompson ordered the meters taken out. He feels that he, not the war department, in peace time should run Chicago.

Complications may result, of two kinds: First, the war department has power to deprive Chicago's sanitary district of Lake Michigan's water by cancelling the existing permit. That would be bad.

Then again, Mayor Thompson's enthusiastic friends say he will be in the White House soon, and able to throw out the secretary of war.

The pursuit of happiness, as the fathers meant it, didn't include the pursuit of the other fellow's happiness.

Next t' a party less hankerin up ther haint nothin' that looks as little fer th' money as a ton o' coal, but I guess if we weight it we'll find it's nearly all there.

I'd hate t' be a southern delegate an' only git paid ever four years.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE UNITED STATES OF EUROPE

The Madrid Press in Spain recently proposed the United States of Europe, independent of the League of Nations, and pledged to maintain peace by means of an international army.

There is not much danger of this suggestion being adopted because there is nothing in its favor but common sense and intelligence. In international affairs these things do not seem to have much of a look-in. Pride, nationalism, chauvinism and patriotism have the right of way.

The logical thing for Europe to do of course, since the United States will not come in with them to the League of Nations, is to organize a League of their own. If they would do this and abolish their nonsensical tariff barriers and have a Europe as united as the American continent, they would accomplish something, but army and office holders would lose their jobs and a number of great and glorious statesmen would be looking for work.

An international police force enforcing the mandates of the United States of Europe would not appeal much to patriotism. It would be simply business, and the principal inducement offered to young men to go to war would be lacking.

The Madrid Press, however, is evidently of the opinion, which is shared by many, that you are never going to have a practical peace that is not bolstered up by arms. The world is too much torn by jealousies, strifes and vanities to sit still long enough to listen to reason.

We do not have anarchy in our cities, because we have all given up the job of protecting our honor and entrusted that to a police force. There is no war between the States of this Union simply because the army belongs to the United States. So, there would automatically come to pass a state of peace if there was no army in Europe except the police force to back up the opinions of the representatives of the United States of Europe.

When the world gets in earnest about abating war, when it ceases to talk and vapor and begins looking about for some practical plan, it must be some such plan as this. Force is not estopped as a means of settling disputes by abandoning force altogether, but by relegating it. As long as nations are unwilling to give up their isolated pride there can be no real union.

Such a plan as that proposed by the Madrid Press would mean billions of dollars to impoverished Europe. But it means something else that is out of the question and that is common sense.

ROGERS AND LINDBERGH.

Will Rogers' daily witticisms are published in the News. It is seldom that the readers of any newspaper are privileged to read and preserve any of the speeches made by Will Rogers. His public talks are very long, mighty interesting,and only little sketches here and there are printed. When Colonel Lindbergh returned to San Diego, Will Rogers spoke at the dinner given the great flyer at the Hotel Del Coronado. A stenographer took Will Rogers' speech as it was spoken. It is probably the best bit of wit that the Ex-Mayor of Beverly Hills ever uttered. I give it as he spoke it.

"That was pretty good applause you gave me. You know I never done nothing more than make a non-stop jump from Hollywood to here. Its hard to say anything now that will be of interest when you come to see Lindbergh, so I'd like to say a few words for Tijuana. That town, you know, isn't very beautiful. It dont appeal to you much when you look at it. It don't hardly give you an eyeful, but it sure does give you a mouthful."

"You know, this is getting pretty hard on this boy here, and ever since he made that flight a few months ago, he has had to sit night after night and listen to all this 'Applesauce'. Every amateur orator in the world has been tried out on him, so I'm not going to try to use any big words on him tonight. I would like to speak, though, about my operation. You know, 'Slim' here belongs to that aviator's club, the Caterpillar Club. Now I haven't got time to discuss it right now, but all you folks who belong to the Ether Society, just stay after dinner and we'll compare experiences."

"It's hard to tell what to do for this boy. Everybody has compared him with all the big men of history that ever went anywhere. They compared him with Napoleon. I suppose they meant well, but what did he do? He crossed the Alps. You know they say an army travels on its belly, and we know darn well Lindbergh traveled a lot faster than that. And beside, Lindbergh came back; and what did Napoleon do. He went into a tailspin at Waterloo, and was a complete washout at St. Helena."

"Up at Spokane the other night, they compared him to Nero. And shucks, Nero was nothing but a fiddler, and he wasn't very good at that. And as far as I can find out, he never went any place but to a fire."

"One of these orators called him 'Columbus,' the modern Columbus of the Air.' Now you can't compare their feats. Columbus, he was lost when he found this country. He had all of North and South America for a landing field, and he'd have been a great bird if he couldn't of landed on one of them."

"And then they say this boy is an 'Ambassador.' That's not so. An Ambassador is sent by one people to fool the people of the country he goes to about the people of the country he comes from. This boy is anything but that. An Ambassador has to look you in the eye and lie to you."

"And he has been called an 'Inspiration to Our Youth.' I hope that's not so, because if they all try what he did, there won't be anybody left. I know I don't want my two kids to try it."

"So they can't give him credit for being any of these great men, but there is one thing he really did do that is worth talking about. He is the first man who ever took a ham sandwich to Paris."

"You know his plane was made here in San Diego and all that. But Los Angeles is determined to get in on the credit, and you can't count them out of it. They claim that they raised the pigs that were cured into the ham that went into the sandwich. The pigs were raised on Hellman's ranch, and were cured by Joe Toplitsky."

"But the thing that I'm wondering about is what this boy really thinks of this talk that he has to sit and listen to every night. I don't know

C. B. D. CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

AERIAL GOSSIP

Charles Lindbergh very aptly points out that flying the mail was more dangerous, hour for hour in the air, when it was begun, than flying across the ocean is now.

That's a valuable thought. Do you remember how air mail pilots were killed, one after another, when the air mail was new? And that wasn't so long ago, was it?

I seem to remember that there was an insistent public demand then that the air mail project be given over altogether. Who would suggest now that the air mail service be discontinued?

Doubtless, there were a good many needless deaths in the early history of the air mail. That is to say, men were killed because they were flying old crates that were left over from the war. And they were flying them over dangerous routes that were not properly marked.

But that's the way things start. If the postoffice hadn't been willing to start with left-over army planes, the air mail never would have been started. If the postoffice had waited until the routes were all marked and the landing fields all laid out, we'd have had no air mail for another fifty years. Remember, it's the air mail that has been the chief incentive to the laying out and dedication of proper landing fields.

Jake Moellendick used to be a laborer in the Kansas oil fields. One day he took a ride in an old army airplane, in order to get to a field where a well was about to be brought in.

Jake liked the plane and the aviator so well that he bought the one and hired the other. He set his aviator up in the airplane manufacturing business in Wichita. That was the beginning of the plane business in Wichita, where there are now five airplane factories.

Jake used to take me all over the plains region in his planes. So I am saddened by this bit of gossip. Jake built the Dallas Spirit that did the fatal tail-spin into the Pacific while it was searching for the lost Dole flyers. After that tail-spin Jake was taken to a sanitarium, a nervous wreck. He had lost his two friends, his plane, and months of hard work. Jake Moellendick is one of the casualties of the long-distance flights. I hope he will recover.

Penn-Ohio System To Be Represented

To Send Delegates To Convention In Cleveland, O.; Many Themes To Be Discussed

The Penn-Ohio system, winner just a year ago of the Charles A. Coffin gold medal, highest award in the electric railway field, will be represented next week at the annual convention of the American Electric Railway association which meets in the Cleveland auditorium.

The business sessions begin Monday morning and continue through the week, covering every phase of activity of electric railways and affiliated motor coach and motor bus lines. The most extensive exhibit of electric cars and equipment and motor buses and coaches will be a feature of the convention.

Among the Penn-Ohio officials who will participate in the convention are Vice President and General Manager C. S. MacCalla, Manager of Railways R. N. Graham, Assistant Manager of Railways D. J. Graham, Assistant to the Vice President Raleigh Reese, Auditor F. E. Wilkin, General Purchasing Agent R. J. Pike and Superintendent of Equipment A. B. Creelman.

Important discussions of the operation of buses and coaches will be heard in the meetings of the transportation and traffic associations. Nearly 400 electric railway managements operate more than 8,000 buses and coaches in coordination with their railways. The railway managements and bus manufacturers have met on common ground and have worked out what appears to be a mutually satisfactory arrangement for the use of this new form of public transportation.

A feature in this connection will be the presentation at the Monday afternoon session by R. N. Graham, the chairman, of the report of the committee on bus operation. Mr. Graham also is on the program for Thursday afternoon for the formal discussion of the report of the committee on service betterment.

The Penn-Ohio system will also be represented in the exhibits. More than 120,000 square feet of space has been engaged for the exhibits of all kinds. The Penn-Ohio system railway, bus and coach service will be represented photographically and graphically in the P-O booth near the entrance to the main auditorium.

Advance registrations indicate that more than 10,000 railway officials from all parts of the United States and Canada will attend the convention.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

what he thinks, but if I had to listen to it, I'd get in that plane and start across the Pacific with only ten gallons of gas in the tank. And if I never got back, I'd think the Lord had been good to me. He must be glad to fly alone, and to get up in the air where he can go so fast that nobody can catch him and say 'sign this'."

"I'm sorry that the Army had to get in on this tonight. Major Macaulay, you ought not to of brought Latin into your speech. There are a lot of Navy people here tonight that didn't understand it. All these Admirals are up in the air about it."

"When we get to thinking and talking about being the leading nation in the air, we don't want to get all swelled up because three of our boys flew across the Atlantic. The important thing is what are 110,000,000 people going to ride in, and where are they going to land? Look at the Wop that had his plane burn up out here at Roosevelt dam. He had the backing of his government and all he did was to sit down and send a telegram to Mussolini—collect—and they sent him another plane that night."

"Now if Lindbergh had broken down near Paris, can you imagine what would have happened if he had wired Coolidge—collect? If he had sent for another plane, there wasn't another like it, and Congress would have had to be called to convene and fillibuster for a few months before they would even appropriate enough for a ticket back home."

"The next war is going to be in the air. They won't shoot you in the next war. They'll just drop it on you. They won't give you a gun and a pair of puttees and tell you to fight. They'll put an airplane in your hand and tell you to go up and see if you can come down on purpose. And this is the only nation in the world that uses the air for speaking purposes exclusively."

"Don't get so excited about this Air Mail. You can get a letter there faster, but when you get it is only a real estate advertisement. And if you are in a real hurry, you can telegraph and that's faster. It is more important to carry males than mail."

"Now I don't generally compliment people, but I've got to change my style tonight. I've been reading about this boy in the papers, mostly because what he did was the only clean thing in the paper in years. Mostly they are filled up with big headlines and stories, 'She Killed Him', and about walking across the desert and leaving no tracks."

"But we have a real regard for this boy. He went across the ocean on the strength of more prayers from more people of more nations than ever before. In your lifetime and my lifetime, we will never again know about another man alone out over the middle of the ocean. He is the first and only one to do that."

"If you live a hundred years from now, you will never again see or hear of anything that will give you such a thrill as what this boy did. The armistice didn't give us a kick like this. We were expecting that, but this gave us the biggest kick that any of us will ever know."

"It is pretty bad for a comedian to get serious, but when I have been talking about this thing, I can't help it, and I always get a little serious. I'm a tough bird, but this feat got me. Every time I read about it, it gives me a kick all over again."

"This is the first time in history that I have been complimentary," he said in conclusion, turning to Colonel Lindbergh, "I hate to do it, but I guess this time I'll have to compliment you."

Colonel William C. Rivers, who has been appointed as inspector general of the U. S. Army with the rank of major general, was in command of the Seventy-sixth Field Artillery in the World War and was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for his part in stemming the tide of the enemy's advance during the second battle of the Marne and for his leadership and military attainments in command of the Fifth Field Artillery Brigade in the Meuse-Argonne offensive. In the Spanish-American war Colonel Rivers saw active service in Cuba during 1898 and 1899. He was afterwards assigned to the Philippines, where he served with the Philippine constabulary successively as adjutant general, inspector general and assistant chief of constabulary. For two years, from 1912 to 1914, he was in command of the Philippine constabulary in the district of Mindanao.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A hawk was in the sky today!
Strange tyrant of the summer air
That strikes with terror and despair
Its weaker fellow—feathered clay.

In circles wide aloft he soared.
A drifter on the pleasant breeze,
Seeking whatever he could seize
Which other lives could ill afford.

A shrill, sharp cry of pain I heard.
The hawk was down and up again,
And on the ground was murder's stain.
Bird had destroyed a fellow-bird.

They tell me this is nature's law;
The stronger on the weaker prey,
And hawks must get their food that way,
But tragic was the crime I saw.

Convention Choir To Meet Sunday

John W. Owens, chairman of the music committee, wishes the members of the convention chorus choir to meet at the cathedral next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He also requests pastors and Sabbath school superintendents to announce this next Sunday morning and especially does he urge that the superintendents have the singers notified and assigned to the choir not later than next Sunday morning. For the chorus to be the big success it must be, every Sabbath school must furnish its quota of singers. Some churches are sending their entire choir. This is just a suggestion. However, every Sabbath school in the county should be represented.

Football Committee Makes Clear Ruling On Lateral Pass At Meeting

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—More than 100 football officials and coaches and the world at large were straightened out on the new grid rules and several old ones at an interpretation meeting of the Eastern Association of football officials here in the Hotel Adelphia.

The savants clarified many doubtful spots.

Fred Gillinder, who presided, expressed the opinion that, to avoid confusion, the so-called lateral pass should be known as a backward pass, which, he felt, was the proper name.

Europe Turns To Airplanes To Ship Gold

Special Planes Used To Transport Bullion Over Long Distances

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Europe is resorting to the air as a means for diminishing the great risk of transporting gold over long distances. Gold shipments and other valuable consignments are now being sent by special planes to their destination instead of by rail and boat.

This is not only a saving of time, but the Continental banks have found that owing to the speed with which gold can thus be transported, the saving in interest is enough to pay for both the cost of transit and the insurance as well.

Under Heavy Guard.

When these shipments are being made the landing fields are notified and before the arrival of the plane ample guards are rushed to the scene. As a majority of these planes are government owned, the nations act as insurance agents and troops are used, not only at the aerodromes but to transfer the valuables into the hands of the receiver.

An official of the British Imperial Airways said that the record cargo of gold shipped by air is three tons, valued at 2,500,000 which was taken to Cologne by two airplanes.

Pilots Are Armed.

"In order to be able to protect their cargoes against robbers in the event of a forced landing, all aeroplane pilots and mechanics are heavily armed with revolvers," continued the official.

"Cargoes of bar gold are regularly carried by our airmen, one of the regular consignments by plane to England, being a shipment of gold twice a month from the Lena Goldfields, operating in Russia."

Two children aren't a family, but just replacement. It takes at least three to gain ground.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE JOLLY TAR PAYS THE PRICE

"Salt Water Turtle ceased abruptly and gazed longingly at the water lapping the shores of the pool. The Turtles and the Tortoises and the Terrapins grew impatient.

"'Go on with the story, Cousin. Don't stop at such an interesting point! What did Mrs. Seal say next?'

"'Not a thing—not a blessed thing! With those words, Mrs. Seal flopped about, clambored up on the rocks high out of the reach of the waves, the baby waddling after her, and went sound asleep. And she slept so long that I became weary of waiting for her to wake up and dropped into the sea.

"'Speaking of the sea makes me homesick for it. I have been feeling queerly for some time—didn't know what was the matter with me. Now I know, I long for the splash of the surf, for the sting of the salt upon my head! This pond is so quiet it gets upon my nerves. I can't stand it any longer.

"'Farewell, for I must leave you. Don't feel sorry, friends, for I will be happier with my comrades of the ocean.'

"Plum! Splash! Salt Water Turtle had dropped out of sight into the water, and doubtless was making for the sea as fast as he could travel. But alas and alas! Not for long was he to enjoy frolicking with the strange folk of the Deep.

So beautiful had the Jolly Tar's shell grown that it shone all brown and gold in the sunlight.

"And one fine morning, as Turtle lay asleep in the sand at the ocean's edge, a Two-Legs caught the glint of a sunbeam, and so came upon Turtle where he slumbered. And before poor

"BEFORE POOR COUSIN COULD KICK A LEG HE WAS TIED HARD AND FAST"

Cousin Turtle could kick a leg he was tied hard and fast beyond all hope of escape and carried off to be shelled. And out of the 'house on his back' were made many things for the Two-Legs—knife cases and jewelry and pretty boxes."

Not a word had Peter said all this while, but now his curiosity got the better of his good manners and he interrupted Tortoise.

"How in the world did you find all this out?" cried he. "You never went to sea."

"Not I," declared Tortoise, and he chuckled. "Land is good enough for this fellow. But a little bird told me. That is how I know the price that Cousin paid for having the most fun in the family. No, siree! Fortunate as he was at first, his luck changed, and from that day until now all Salt Water Turtles have been hunted for the shell, and sometimes for their flesh."

Tapping Of U. S. Oil Reserves Not Our Worry, Experts Say

(By CHARLES P. STEWART)
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work's speech warning us to save our oil, or we shan't have enough to fuel our navy next time the war clouds gather is much commended by all officials of the commerce department's bureau of mines, petroleum division.

That is, it's much commended as a speech.

The petroleum folks have heard so much about the danger of an oil famine, at the same time that our reserves, as they very well knew, were steadily increasing, that they're rather indifferent as to that detail.

It's not to be denied that we're making inroads on our oil supply. What we burn is gone forever—for all practical purposes. If Nature's making more, it's doing so at no such rate as we're consuming it.

But that's true of coal too, and nobody worries about the exhaustion of our coal supply. That would be worring about what's too everlastingly far in the future—there's much coal in sight already.

To be sure, we haven't as much oil in sight as we have coal, but we keep on discovering more at a tremendous rate. Up to date, in spite of our stiff rate of consumption, our reserves are greater, in proportion to the demands on them, than ever they were.

I'm talking about American oil, mind—not the foreign oil that our alarmists tell us we'll be compelled to rely on, if we use up our own too fast.

Their story is that foreign producers would charge us unholy prices if American wells ran dry, and that our enemies might shut us off from foreign sources completely, in war time.

But I'm referring to American oil, and quoting bureau of mines experts—petroleum division.

"If we don't discover another drop of oil from now on and don't improve our methods," they told me at the petroleum division, "we'll be up against a shortage inside of 10 years.

"We'll be wringing oil out of sand and shale—slowly, expensively.

"But why imagine we shan't discover any more?

"We'll also get more of what we do discover. Once, every time we struck oil we took out one-seventh of it and left the rest in the ground. Now we're going back to our old wells after a couple more sevenths. Presently we'll be pumping up the other four-sevenths."

"It's posterity's lookout, anyway," insisted the experts.

Sixty years ago, if any prophet could have forseen our present day civilization, he must have wondered how we'd manage it on tallow dips and whale oil. But what did he care? That was a problem for posterity, and we've solved it.

"Our posterity'll find a new fuel if it needs it."

The danger isn't really the navy's, the expert say—it's a jam the oil companies are in.

Suppose two of them—or more—locate a new oil lake. They tap it simulatenously. Both would like to sit back and wait for better prices, but neither one can do it. If it did, the other would suck that lake dry in short order.

So they suck in concert—and competition.

The result is that each finds itself with a lot of extra oil on hand, that it didn't need immediately. To store it's costly and wasteful, so they try to sell it—again in competition. Naturally the price slumps.

It's fine for consumers but mighty severe on oil dividends.

So the petroleum experts at the bureau of mines assures me—confidentially.

Betty Nuthall Thinks American Girls Have Free And Easy Life

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 2[illegible]—American girls are very free and easy, in the opinion of Betty Nuthall, the sixteen-year-old tennis star just back in England after her American tour.

"American girls seemed to be allowed what they like, and they are a clever lot," Betty told interviewers. "I think they are grown up rather too early and they powder their noses before they are very old.

"American men are awfully nice, but I don't like the way they dress. One thing is, they don't put on evening dress very often."

Annual Milk And Butter Sales In Lawrence County Total Over Million Dollars

That milk and butter are the most valuable of the Lawrence county farm products, with an annual sale of $1,077,008, is set forth in the industrial survey of New Castle and the surrounding territory which was made recently by the Hockenbury System for the Chamber of Commerce.

There are 2,464 farms in the county, continues the survey, with 2,354 male farmers and 110 female farmers. Value of farm land is set at $9,751,583, and value of farm buildings is $8,006,795.

The total value of all farm property, says the survey, is $22,387,957, while the value of all agricultural products is $3,552,709, and the value of livestock is $2,686,450.

Of the 2,354 farmers in Lawrence county, 1,930 have automobiles, 1,780 farms have telephones and 1,320 farmers use cream separators.

Fine Advantages Here For Industry Says Local Survey

In the industrial survey completed recently by the Hockenbury System for the Chamber of Commerce, a study of the available locations for industrial sites, with buildings, has been made and there are listed a number of the more important of these sites with sidings, power, gas and water.

Among the advantages of New Castle as an industrial city, states the survey, are these: satisfactory labor market, ample railroad facilities, good living conditions, with fine schools and churches, water supply, power, equitable taxes, cheap sites and raw materials.

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Annie Kwinski of 526 1st Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes that she became so weak and rundown that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said to her husband, "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better.

Mrs. Mattie Adams, who lives in Downing Street, Brewton, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman."

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women past fifty, say they owe their health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

New Union Station And Theatre For Vaudeville, Needs

That steps should be taken to develop a strong community spirit in New Castle, so that every business man, and especially the Chamber of Commerce, would co-opeate in discovering new prospects, is recommended in the industrial survey just completed for the Chamber of Commerce by the Hockenbury System.

The report also recommends the desirability of a union passenger station and a first-class vaudeville theater to supplement the improvements of The Castleton and the Scottish Rite Cathedral in making New Castle not only a great industrial city, but also improve the civic spirit.

PIMPLES AND BLACK-HEADS ALL OVER FACE

Was ashamed to be seen—simple remedy brought quick improvement

Munden, Va., Aug. 5:—"Awhile ago I began to be troubled with enlarged pores and blackheads. Then pimples developed, and even boils. My skin was very sore and in a terrible condition. It was so disfigured and unsightly I was ashamed of it. I tried about everything to be had for pimples, but with no good results. I had heard Resinol Ointment and Soap so highly recommended for troubles like mine, I decided to try them. After one treatment there was a decided improvement, and the pimples began to fade away. I advise everybody with skin trouble to try Resinol." (Signed) Miss Hazel Beasley.

Believe Family Has Nation's School Record

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 30.—Governor John S. Fisher is proud of the record of the M. J. Showalter family of Huntingdon. The seven children of the family have a school attendance record which the governor believes is without parallel in the United States.

Governor Fisher, whose attention was called to the Showalter record by Dr. John A. H. Keith, superintendent of public instruction, said he appreciated fully how difficult it is for a family of seven children to keep almost perfect school attendance records, for he taught school himself during his youth.

The two eldest of the family, Thelma and Jeanette, attended school for 13 years without being absent or tardy. A brother, Harvey, attended 12 years with a like record. Virginia, with the exception of a period when she was ill, reported daily for nine years of her school career.

Three younger members of the family hope to further swell the family record.

Dr. Keith showed the governor a picture of the family, and the executive said he was greatly interested in the case.

"My Religion" Title For Book Written By Helen Keller

(International News Service)

URBANA, Ohio, Sept. 30.—After completing a study of the bust of Emanuel Swedenborg, loaned to her by Urbana university, Miss Helen Keller, probably the most famous blind character in the world, is writing a book entitled: "My Religion," which it is said will contain facts and opinions concerning the Swedenborgian religion.

Miss Keller wanted to "see" how Swedenborg looked and to "feel" his presence, which the work of bronze, done by Fannie Byse in 1904, enabled her to do. The bust was in Miss Keller's possession from June until just recently.

There are but three other busts of Emanuel Swedenborg in the country—one at New York, one in Chicago and the other in Boston.

Claim Removal Of Coal Will Ruin Limestone Ledge

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 30.—An unusual suit, involving property valued at approximately $700,000, has been filed in the Butler county court by the Pittsburgh Limestone company, which seeks to enjoin the Annandale Coal company of Annandale, Butler county, from removing a four-foot vein of coal from its extensive acreage.

The limestone company contends that it will be greatly damaged if the coal is removed, as it owns a 24-foot vein of limestone, about 55 feet above the vein of coal. If the coal is removed, the plaintiff alleges, the strata above will collapse and the vein of limestone will be ruined by spattering, rendering it unfit for mining. It it alleged by the plaintiff that it has expended about $700,000 in acquiring the property and developing it, but that this will be practically a loss, if the coal company proceeds with its plan of removing the coal support of the limestone vein.

Here Comes The Band, Navy Players Coming

Uncle Sam's own boys, the chaps who make the battleships do dance floor squadron formation, are coming here by special tour-leave of absence from Washington, D. C.

The official United States Navy Band is a musical organization unsurpassed for its soloists and its variety of features, which range from symphonies to the patriotic march music that is of America's heart a a part. The band has a jazz unit, something singular in band innovations. Their balance of selections, as pointed out by the critics everywhere, is calculated to keep the attention pitched tensely from the first salvo of brass to the last trailing note of harmonious farewell. The pride in our country's official U. S. Navy Band takes hundreds to Washington to hear it every year. Now, our school children, folks unable to travel for their musical treats, are able to hear it on this tour by special grant of the President.

A military leader in China seems to be anybody with a bunch of followers and an itching palm.

Coolidge As Senator?

May Have Chosen to Represent His State, Remaining in Public Life, Stewart Says and Tells Of Some Advantages

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—What does Mr. Coolidge choose to do anyway?

He'll have to find some sort of employment after he leaves the White House. Probably it will need to be pretty strenuous too; the presidency must key a man up to a point to make most other things seem tame by comparison.

Grover Cleveland was an exception; he was a philosopher.

William Howard Taft's another exception.

The presidency was only an incident in his life; not a very pleasant one, either. He was miscast as president. Nature designed him for chief justice of the federal supreme court. He simply wandered aimlessly, through the presidency and everything, until his present job opened and received him.

Woodrow Wilson's was a more characteristic ex-presidential case. Wilson, in retirement, certainly was throughly unhappy.

Maybe Col. Roosevelt wasn't exactly unhappy, but it's a cinch he was discontented.

He had to take artifical excitement in heroic doses to keep from dying of ennui. Lion hunting, third party movements, death-defying ventures into unknown jungles, bouncing bullets off his torso, red hot scraps with all and sundry!—it took strong stuff right along to satisfy the colonel's cravings.

Calvin Coolidge will complete his current presidential term a comparatively young man and a very active one, from all indications.

He isn't the type to settle down, like Cleveland, write his memoirs and become the sage of Amherst, or some such place.

He hasn't Taft's ingrowing judicial temperament.

He'll enjoy himself for awhile, loafing; then he'll begin to grow restless.

Trust the farseeing Mr. Coolidge to have thought of this already, and to have evolved some very clear-cut idea as to what he chooses to do about it.

He won't mope and pine; you can bet on that.

He won't resort to powerful stimulants, like Roosevelt; that isn't in his line.

Mr. Coolidge is a lawyer, but he never worked much at it. He never wrote anything he didn't have to. He's no dreamer. He doesn't care for for blood-curding adventures.

Calvin Coolidge lives on politics. It's been his business; now it will have to be his avocation.

But, after having been president, what is there left for Mr. Coolidge to get a thrill out of in politics any more?

Why, the senate, to be sure.

A come-down? Don't think it.

A senator's pretty big man anyway. And a senator who's also an ex-president! An ex-president, too, who retired at the apex of his popularity! He'll be all but the president's equal in importance, and a dozen times a president in the matter of independence.

It's hard to think of a position in which a politician can have more fun.

There'll be a Massachusetts senatorship available the year after Mr. Coolidge quits the White House.

He can have it for the asking, it goes without saying. He'll virtually represent the whole country—his party throughout the entire country at any rate. Nobody could beat him. He won't have to live to an impossible age to be good for three terms at it.

All the ease of retirement, and, at the same time all the enjoyment of active politics!

Unless all Washington's mistaken, that's what Mr. Coolidge chooses.

Embezzler's Wife Granted Divorce, Changes Her Mind

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 30.—A strange story of the private life of a paroled embezzler came to light here recently when the embezzler's former wife sought a divorce from her second husband in order to remarry the first.

The story is that Fred Embanks, the paroled embezzler, who lived happily enough until debt arose to cloud the horizon two years ago. To meet these debts Embanks "borrowed" $300 from his company. He was convicted and sent to prison.

Mrs. Embanks, alone with their two children, believed her husband was lost to her for 10 years, the maximum of his sentence. Along came Leo Glowicki and an offer of marriage. She was given a divorce from her first mate and married the second.

A short time later Glowicki deserted her and again she was destitute. In the meantime her first husband had been paroled and was searching the city for her. A few weeks ago he found her and through aid of the Legal Aid Society their troubles were straightened out and Mrs. Glowicki asked for a second divorce that she might wed again her first love.

Although women must not yet expect steel dresses they are now within the bounds of possibility. At a recent engineering exhibition in London there was shown steel wire so fine, and of texture so silken, that it can be woven into cloth as soft as muslin.

Mercer Will Vote On $200,000 Issue For New Hospital

Tuberculosis Sanatorium To Be Built In Sharon When Issue Passes

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 30.—The Act of 1915 of the Pennsylvania legislature provides specifically for the action of the county commissioners taken of recent date in announcing that a bond issue of $200,000 will be put to vote of the people this fall for the purpose of building and equipping a tuberculosis hospital in Mercer county.

The hospital is backed by the Sharon Chamber of Commerce and has friends in every community over Mercer county. Its need is well known to any county resident who has made investigation of present conditions in the county where there are now 165 full developed cases.

At the meeting of the Public Health Association of the county held on Friday evening next at the Greenville Country Club when Dr. Theodore Appel, head of the State Board of Health, will be present, this question is certain to be discussed in an informal way due to the fact that Dr. Appel may inform county residents of the operation in other counties of the state.

By a referendum vote of the people taken in 1923 the building of a hospital was sanctioned. Nothing was ever done because no funds were provided for the erection. It is said today that a campaign of a vigorous type will take place in the county in each two prefacing the vote at the election of November 8th.

The Federal department of agriculture is to aid in the establishment of an experimental rabbit farm in San Bernardino county, Calif., with a view to the improvement and development of the rabbit raising industry in the United States.

According to an Arab superstition, the stork has a human heart and the crow the heart of a devil.

The Coffee Tastes So Good Because The Flavor is Roasted In

GOOD coffee! The very thought of it, fragrant and tasteful, makes one long for a steaming cup. But there are so many coffee-making failures! How can a housewife be sure of good coffee every time—coffee which really brings to the table that ravishing aroma you smell round a roasting oven?

The Dwinell-Wright Company, producers and roasters of White House Coffee, have found the answer. As a result of 70 years of coffee-roasting experience, they have developed a coffee-roasting process that roasts the flavor in.

Special methods of control advance the roasting of White House Coffee without allowing the precious coffee oils to evaporate. These oils, developing in the "roast," produce the mellow fragrance and flavor that make good coffee so satisfying.

In the White House ovens, the natural coffee goodness is roasted to a definite "peak"—just enough to perfect the full coffee taste, but not enough to drive the life of the coffee out of the beans. Thus the flavor is roasted into White House Coffee and not out into the air.

If you want to serve coffee that tastes as good as fine coffee smells when it's roasting, order White House Coffee. The Flavor is Roasted In!

Insurgents To Wield Balance In U. S. Senate

Administration Is Facing Newly Solidified Bloc Under Norris

Progressive Group Was Strengthened In Elections Recently Held

By KENNETH CLARK
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Administration will have a recalcitrant Senate on its hands this session.

The Progressive-Insurgents already are organizing. This group again will wield the balance of power in the upper house, and perhaps more often than not will be voting with the Democrats against the Republican regulars.

Indications are that the Progressive bloc will be as strongly solidified as under the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin, who in 1924, led an unsuccessful third party movement. LaFollette's mantle has fallen upon the shoulders of Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, long noted for his independent political action.

Win New Strength

This group was strengthened in the last elections, the most notable adherent being Senator Blaine (R) of Wisconsin, a former governor of the state. He is an old disciple of the LaFollette school.

The Progressives are united along economic lines. Their chief battle will be to prevent the government turning over its great power resources, to private interests, to cut taxes, to provide permanent flood control on the Mississippi and other navigable waters, and to place strict prohibitions on election to stop the expenditure of vast sums of money in campaigns.

They also may get behind a proposal for a constitutional amendment to provide for the direct election of the President and Vice-President.

There is little sentiment among them this year for a third party. The American Federation of Labor, one of the strongest supporters of the LaFollette movement, has decided to follow its non-partisan political policy. It opposes a labor party, but will support candidates favorable to labor in either of the major parties.

Will Fight Vare

A major plank in the Progressive's program will be to turn the congressional spotlight on the alleged monopolistic control of power companies. Senator Norris set the ball rolling last session. Senator Wash (D) of Montana, who exposed the Teapot Dome scandle, will press for a resolution calling for a thorough inquiry into the power combine.

No strictly labor bills are in contemplation, such as the Watson-Parker mediation act of last year. Some efforts will be made,however, to put teeth into this act. Officials of the big railroad brotherhoods have complained that not all of the railroads have accepted the principle of arbitration of labor disputes as contemplated in the act.

The Progressives will fight the seating of Vare of Pennsylvania, and Smith of Illinois.

W. C. T. U. In Japan Wage New Battle On Double Standards

(International News Service)

TOKIO, Sept. 30.—For the 41st successive year the Women's Christian Temperance union of Japan is preparing to petition the Diet in December to abolish the "double standard" in Japan and make adultery a crime for men as well as women. The society presented its first petition to this effect to the government in 1886 thirteen years before the Diet was founded. They have not missed a year since.

In Japanese law an unfaithful wife is a criminal but an unfaithful husband is not. Women's societies have been working for 40 years to change the law without result. But they believe victory is near.

The movement was much encouraged by a court decision last year which awarded damages to a wife whose husband had been living with a geisha girl. This decision was made by Dr. Hideo Yokota, former president of the Tokio supreme court, after the lower court had ruled that the wife was entitled to no damages. The emperor became interested in the ruling and ordered Dr. Yokota to appear before him and explain the case. He is said to be sympathetic to the women.

However the societies feel they still have a long way to go. The petition has been quietly shelved by every session of parliament since the Diet was founded in 1899.

The petition being prepared this year asks that the Diet pass a law immediately putting men and women on the same legal basis as regards unfaithfulness.

"Out Of The Night" Is On The Road To Broadway

Mysterious shadows, shots in the dark and sudden murder will stalk the stage of the Scottish Rite Cathedral auditorium on Saturday, October 1st, when "Out of the Night", said to be the weirdest and creepiest of all mystery-thrillers, will begin its engagement. # Gov. Al Smith Is "Finger Printed"

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Governor Al Smith has a long habit of breaking records and he has just added another to his long list.

The Chief Executive has been fingerprinted.

And the finger prints are on record in the state prison department. Here is how it happened.

The Governor was going through the Capitol when he came upon a booth where the state prision department were getting finger prints ready for exhibition at the State Fair. The Governor stopped to look things over and before he knew it someone suggested he be fingerprinted.

Smiling, the Governor consented. However, he remarked:

"What am I charged with?"

"With being a good Governor," replied Miss Clara L. Parsons, who has charge of the records in the prison department.

Afterward it was explained that several of the other state officials had had their finger prints taken to be filed in the prison department.

It was explained by officials of the department, however, that the records of the officials were entirely separated from other prison records.

The latest official report gives the number of unemployed workers in Great Britain as 1,049,300.

This week . . . get Rinso

Neighbors will envy your whiter wash~

no scrubbing ~ no boiling ~ so clothes last longer

YES, just that—soaked clean! Soaked whiter and brighter than you could get them the old scrub-and-rub way!

Forget about the washboard — you don't need it. Never mind boiling, either. Rinso whitens without boiling —sterilizes, too!

Watch dirt float off

This amazing granulated soap is all you need on washday. It makes even the hardest water soft and soapy all through. The creamy suds loosen dirt and stains so they float off by themselves. The wash is left spotless and sparkling—whitest you ever saw!

No other laundry soap rinses out so quickly, so completely as Rinso. Best of all, it takes the dirt with it as it rinses. That's why it's called Rinso!

Saves hands—clothes, too

Washday hands—red and coarsened—are the result of endless washboard rubbing. But this soak-and-rinse way saves your hands.

Saves the clothes, too! No need to rub things thin against a board. The most soiled parts come clean with a gentle rub or two between the fingers.

And Rinso is so safe. Contains no acids or bleaches of any description. Economical, too—it's not fluffy chips but closely packed granulated soap.

Try soaking clothes clean this very week. Follow easy directions on package for economy and best results.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Panorama of New York . . . The Marquis Henri de la Falaise de la Coudray, Gloria Swanson's husband, having a midnight snack consisting of a chicken sandwich and tea, in the little downstairs restaurant at the Biltmore . . . he is all alone and looks a trifle forlorn amidst the chattering after theatre crowds . . . An Indian in full regalia tramping down Broadway with a white woman companion . . . everybody stares . . . Dorothy Gish at the second night of "The Command to Love," an ultra sophisticated comedy, wearing her hair in the manner of Amy March, the heroine of "Little Women." (It is strained back from her forehead and kept there by means of a circular comb.) . . . The chauffeur of a swanky Locomobile reading Life between whiles, when his car is stopped by the red light in traffic.

The conveniences and inconveniences of New York apartment life cast a great light on present day marriage. In Tudor City, a group of new apartment buildings at Forty-second street and the East River, one may have a two-room apartment with facilities for refrigeration, but absolutely no provision for cooking, for $125 a month. The arrangement is significant. One provides for cocktail-making, in today's pied-a-terre but not for the homely comforts of breakfast and dinner cooked on the premises. Of course, percolators will be used by many, and the transgression will be overlooked by the management. But for the most part, the apartments will be used as jumping off places, necessarily: there will be a good deal of quiet, serious drinking, and more not so quiet. And there will be dinner at the restaurant in the building, and no little bride's biscuits burning cheerily in the oven. The cynic, however, may point out that these large buildings are not designed primarily for the earnest newly-married, but for the gayer birds of passage whose "love nests" delight the editors of tabloid newspapers.

I hate: all fat women who crowd after me in an under sized seat in the trick trains run by the New York, New Haven and Hartford, and try to make me so uncomfortable that I will move into the smoker; also all latecomers at the theater who climb in over me and neglect to say they're sorry; people who try to read manuscript over my shoulder on the subway; elevator operators who bounce the car up and down at my floor and ghoulishly yell, "watch your step," hoping that I won't; the dentist who sends me a notice every six months and, even so, finds at least nine jobs to do every time I go to see him; the mean guy at the gate in Grand Central, upper level, who will never let me through to see my friends off on western trains.

CHANGES PROPOSED IN RULES OF NOMINATING CONVENTIONS

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.—The unforgotten nightmare of the Madison Square Garden convention in 1924, combined with the campaign of the Al Smith forces, is contributing to an apparently increasing sentiment among Democrats for the abolition of the two-thirds rule in the national convention.

A straw vote now being taken shows that about 65 per cent of the members of the Democratic National committee who have replied to the question favor the abolition of the two-thirds rule, and 56 per cent favor the abolition of the unit rule requiring each state delegation to vote as the majority of the delegation dictates.

Hollins Randolph of Georgia, who led his state's delegation for William G. McAdoo on all the tedious ballots taken in 1924, is organizing the movement against the two-thirds rule, which makes two-thirds of the votes cast necessary to effect a nomination.

The wearisome succession of futile balloting at the 1924 convention, with its disastrous results to the Democratic party, showed up the disadvantages of the two-thirds rule, where a stubborn minority can block the nomination of a man favored by the majority. But there will be disadvantages of a majority rule, under the present system of apportioning delegates to the Democratic convention. For the states which never go Democratic have as proportionally great a representation in the convention as have the unfailingly Democratic states.

Thus a few states with large populations, but few Democrats, can wield a power over the convention not warranted by their ability to return Democratic votes at the presidential election. For example, Pennsylvania, which never goes Democratic, will have in the convention a delegation larger than the combined delegations of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida and South Carolina, all of which are always Democratic.

This is because the Democratic National convention is made up of two delegates for each senator and representative in congress, regardless of the party affiliations of the senators, and six delegates each for Alaska, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippine islands and the Panama Canal zone, none of which participate in the election. This is a total of 1,098 votes in each convention.

The Republicans have found a way out of domination by states which have no ability to return votes for a Republican candidate for president. The Republican National convention now penalizes congressional districts which have few Republican votes, and rewards states which show a Republican majority in presidential elections.

The Republican National convention of 1928 will be made up as follows: Four delegates-at-large from each state (two for each senator), two delegates-at-large for each representative-at-large and one delegate from each congressional district in the United States, regardless of the party dominating the district; one district delegate from each congressional district casting 10,000 or more votes for any Republican nominee for congress in the last preceding congressional election; three additional delegates-at-large from each state casting its electoral vote, or a majority thereof, for the Republican nominee for president in the last preceding presidential election, and two delegates-at-large each for Alaska, the District of Columbia, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippine islands. There were 1,109 delegates to the last Republican convention.

The change in the system of selecting delegates took 76 delegates from the south in the 1924 convention, and added 111 delegates from states which went for Harding in 1920. This "reform" was put into effect by the Republicans after several years of campaign against the domination of the delegates from states which always went Democratic in presidential elections, and after several previous experiments to break the unwarranted power of these states. The Republicans nominate by a majority. Of course, since the "southern delegates" in a Republican convention do not represent actual Republican constituencies, they are really under the control of the chairman of the Republican National committee or of the president, if he is a Republican.

On the other hand, the Democrats provide for a more representative way of selecting their national committee than do the Republicans. The Democrats require that the delegates to the Democratic National committee be elected by popular vote, in the Democratic primaries, while the Republicans choose their committeemen and committeewomen in convention, except in states which have adopted laws requiring their selection by popular vote.

The abolition of the two-thirds rule in the Democratic National convention would be a definite advantage for the presidential aspirations of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York. For one thing, he might easily get a majority of the votes. For another, the southern delegates who fear their "dry and anti-Catholic constituencies, but who would welcome the nomination of Smith as the hope of the party, might feel that they could vote for some dry Protestant, and still see Smith nominated. The movement to abolish the unit rule also has its significance upon the Smith campaign. For example, delegates from extremely dry and anti-Catholic districts could vote against Smith, while those from less decided districts could vote for him, and Smith could be nominated.

But not all the Smith advocates among the southern Democrats are for the abolition of the two-thirds rule. For example, Albert Sidney Burleson, postmaster general under the Wilson administration, told correspondents some months ago that "no man who cannot get the votes of two-thirds of the delegates to the convention should be nominated." Yet Burleson had even then definitely come out for Al Smith.

Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the Democratic National committee, who has made no announcement of her preferences for the nomination, favors the two-thirds rule, saying that it accomplished the same result in the Democratic convention as the new allocation of delegates does in the Republican convention, since it "places the responsibility of naming the nominee on those who will support him at the polls."

At any rate, apparently the present campaign of the Smith contingent seems to be directed toward the abolition of the two-thirds rule.

To me, it seems that every community should have a community chest, and, not only have it, but contribute so that it can be of some value to those of us who are more unfortunate. It is much better than individual giving. Through the community chest, there is less chance of duplication when on cases that there is when the work is being done individually. And again, every society seems to know better what their neighbor societies are doing when the community chest is used.

Along with the rest, may I too put in my plea for the classics? When I was in college, I took two years of Greek under a very capable man, and I must say that the course has done for me more than any others that I have ever taken.

Not only does Greek help one to understand this conglomoration which one calls English, but it is helpful in many other ways. The Greeks were philosophers, poets and dramatists. Some of the finest poetry cannot be translated out of the Greek, it must be read in the original to be appreciated.

Although the proper study of mankind is man, yet one would be surprised at what he can learn about men by the study of the classical languages.

It certainly was fine that everyone took a half day off to see the fair. Although New Castle is industrial rather than agricultural, I believe that this shows that everyone feels and appreciated what the farmers do for us.

And the fair, as you must know, is a big proposition. The best that is produced in Lawrence county is displayed there, and I believe that it behooves everyone to go out and see it.

If there is one thing that I like to do, that is watch horse racing. Although I am well aware of the fact that one horse can outrun another, yet there is something so fascinating about it all, that I cannot see how anyone can resist it. When they are coming down the straight way, well, there is nothing like it. No wonder it is called the sport of kings!

8½ Billion Dollars

THIS staggering sum represents the invested capital of the Electric Light and Power Industry in the United States—more than double what it was six years ago.

That the immense growth of the industry in the past few years is but an index of the future expansion that is possible, may be determined from the following facts:

Less than 60% of the population of the United States lives in electrically lighted dwellings.

92% of the 6,449,998 farms in the United States are without electricity. Only 4% of their total horsepower is now electrified.

Of the industrial power load, less than 68% is electrically generated.

Electrified mileage of the railroads of the country is only about 1%.

The use of the electric household appliances, electric heating and electric refrigeration are three important fields that offer unlimited possibilities for potential revenue.

The increasing business of the Penn-Ohio System calls for additions to power plant equipment, in 1927 and 1928, which will cost more than $8,000,000.

Aside from being a Bumper of practically indestructible materials, the auxiliary driving light feature is a boon to night drivers. Every motorist who sees one demonstrated acclaims it as being practically indispensable. The program to be rendered under the leadership of Miss Mary E. Vandivort, superintendent, Miss Mildred J. Gresham at the piano, is as follows:

Theft Of Ducks Charge Is Made

In the group of habitual drinkers before his honor Mayor William H. Dunlap this morning was one man, rather advanced in years when the mayor had passed sentence that County Detectice Wm. Fleming claimed on account of the recent theft of some ducks.

And thereby hangs a tale. It appears that this man and others of like stripe, one night recently were trying to dispose of some ducks. The police were advised and Officer Thomas of the South Side beat said he would be on the lookout because there were indications that the ducks offered for sale had been stolen.

And so they had. And from a brother of the officer.

Special Lighting For Hotel Streets

Lights To Be Strung On Streets Surrounding "The Castleton"

That the streets in front of The Castleton will be lighted by a special series of lights, strung entirely around the building, was the statement made today by John Walker, superintendent of construction for the H. J. Conrath Company of Erie, who are erecting the hotel.

"This will be quite an innovation in New Castle, says Mr. Walker, "and I am sure that it will be appreciated by the townspeople. Most large hotels have a 'white light' district surrounding them, and The Castleton will be no exception.

As work progresses in the lobby, the front office is almost finished by workmen, who are working even faster than usual in order that the hostelry can be made ready for the opening. The telephone switchboard has been installed and is now being connected; all the pigeon holes are in place, as also are the telephone booths.

On the guest floors the W. G. Chew Company has one showroom set up complete, so that one may see just how the rooms will look when completed.

Manager John L. Slack's apartment is practically finished and will be ready for occupancy within a few days. John Walker, superintendent of construction, will also have a permanent apartment in the hotel.

On the outside of the building things are rapidly nearing completion. All sidewalks have been laid and it will be but a short time before Mercer and Falls streets are widened to take care of the additional traffic which will flow over them when the hotel opens.

The shops which surround the downstairs of the building are expected to be ready for occupancy within a week's time, officials state.

Gary School Strike Is More Serious

Council Turns Down Proposal Of Erection Of Temporary School Shelters

(International News Service)

GARY, Ind., Sept. 30.—The strike of 1,500 Emerson High school students, protesting the presence in their school of 24 negroes, assumed greater proportions here today when the City council refused immediate action upon proposed erection of temporary school shelters for the colored pupils, and continued the hearing until Monday.

The City council flatly turned down the student council's proposal that the negroes be ousted immediately. A mass meeting scheduled in the school auditorium today, it is believed, will bring matters to a crisis.

The Emerson school strike has spread to surrounding schools and anti-negro feeling has manifested itself in the actions of Gary residents, police report.

Police squads continued to patrol the negro section with machine guns and no negro mass meetings are allowed to be held.

Red Cross Aids In Work At Fair

Emergency Hospital Maintained At Fair By Red Cross

One of the most helpful institutions on the New Castle fair grounds is the emergency hospital and rest room of the New Castle Chapter of the American Red Cross located near the entrance gate for pedestrians.

Here mothers may leave their babies under the care of graduate and practical nurses while they are going about the fair grounds and to the emergency hospital many cases were brought in that are cared for by the Red Cross staff of nurses. Most of the cases are of fatigue and all that needs is a little rest.

An ambulance is handy so that serious cases if they should happen might be taken to the city. An interesting map on exhibit there is a map showing the extent of the Mississippi flood of last spring.

The emergency hospital is in charge of Kathryn Hite, R. N. Jessie Wilson, secretary of the New Castle chapter of the Red Cross is in charge of the rest tent. She is ably assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, city nurse, Mrs. Gertrude Hoenstine, welfare nurse at the Carnegie Steel company, Miss Maude Keyser, welfare nurse at the Johnston Limestone company, Miss Maude Furgeson, welfare nurse at the Tin Mills, Miss Emma Dodds, city school nurse, Miss Della Glenn, the nurse of the Tuberculosis society, Mrs. Alice Tucker, Miss Myra Ackerman and Miss Agnes McGarr, state nurses.

The three state nurses also had as their duties inspection of the different eating places on the fair grounds to see that they were sanitary and according to state regulations.

Report 45 Killed By Auto Accidents In State In Week

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 30.—Automobile accident totals compiled for the week ending September 28, announced today by the State Department of Highways, showed a death toll of 45 and injury to 652. The department has declared its intention of announcing the weekly toll of automobile accidents hereafter as well as those in which only hit and run drivers figure.

Analysis of the 397 accidents reported showed that wet highways were blamed for 123 of them, head-on collisions 80 and loss of control, 41.

Benjamin G. Eynon, registrar of motor vehicles, termed the list for the week "appalling" and asserted that with but few exceptions the accidents could have been avoided.

"Reckless driving, lack of care in driving on wet and dangerous highways and defective equipment were responsible for the tremendous toll of deaths," he said.

SEVERAL AUTO ACCIDENTS HERE

Nearly $33,000,000 In Annual Payroll Here

Annual payrolls for all occupations in the New Castle district, exclusive of Ellwood City, are set at $32,613,381 in the industrial survey which has been made under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce.

In June, 1927, there were eight banks and trust companies operating in New Castle, with total resources of $29,534,850, total deposits of $20,465,518 and loans and discounts of $8,181,184. The eight building and loan associations had total assets of $5,722,202, with loans of $5,435,812.

Postoffice receipts from January to June of 1927 amounted to $84,757, but these do not represent the entire volume of business for the New Castle postoffice, since a number of the large, outside controlled industries buy their postage through the home office but do their mailing in New Castle.

There are 833 retail establishments and 65 wholesale companies in New Castle, says the survey. The average volume of retail business is $23,186,942, or a per capita retail buying power of $439.98.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

There would seem to be only one reason why an otherwise normal young man would be out at ten o'clock at night, with only a pair of duck trousers on, dancing on a lawn with all the grace of a coryphee, and that reason would be a fraternity initiation.

This seems to be the explanation of a weird scene on a lawn in New Wilmington last night. A husky youth was surrounded by a group of students. All the clothes the youth had on could be carried in a woman's purse, or nearly so, and as the Collyum Conductor passed the young man seemed to be striking a pose much like Ajax Defying the Lightning, or Liberty Enlightening the World. Such grace, such symmetry, such poise!

Following that he broke into an airy sort of dance which would look well at a May Day Festival but was rather amusing at such an hour of the night. The explanation given was that the boys were holding an initiation, and if you ever joined a Greek letter fraternity, you can appreciate his plight.

A happy family of young kittens who shouldn't be out after dark nearly met their everlasting on a curve in the road. They were young, very young, and were about eight in number. They were also very black. They started across the road in a column of two, and only a sharp twist of the wheel, and a lot of luck missed them altogether.

Short cuts are valuable sometimes, but the Maitland Lane shortcut to the Wilmington Road is not so good at the present time. There is a ditch in the lane which should be filled up by the supervisors of Neshannock township for in its present condition it is a short cut to a repair garage.

The Harlansburg Road Thursday night. Cars, big ones and little ones—some of them worth five thousand dollars and some of them worth one hundredth of that—bumpers scrape—hey why don't you watch where you're going—Officer Murphy throws a nasty glance at a daredevil who tries to cut around—lady why don't you throw out your hand—now there's a bright lad trailing the car ahead of him at three feet—nearly got it that time—wonder how that new sedan got that dinge in the right rear fender—there's one of those one armed drivers—no, he has two arms but the right one is in use—no I don't know who she is—they ought to concrete this road—wonder why is a motorcycle—well here we are coming into Croton—is that so, well keep over on your own side of the road—George Wyman is having a time these days—hold it, ther's a red light—not such bad driving after all.

Now that the fair is about over, you can get ready for the World's Series. And if you don't want to go to Pittsburgh, come down to Mercer street as the guest of the New Castle News.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 30—When a 10-gallon can of gasoline exploded the barbecue stand of Leonard Hickle was destroyed with a loss of $3,500. Raymond Hickle, who had lit the fire under the gasoline stove, failed to notice a faulty burner, which communicated fire to the large gasoline tank.

Vesuvius Activity Is Cause Of New Theory On Eruptive Volcanoes

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—What are the processes which take place in Nature's subterrenean laboratory and produce the eruptive volcanoes and earthquakes which from time to time are reported each year throughout the world? This is being asked over Europe today as a result of the renewed activity of Vesuvius.

According to the newest theory set down by scientists, both earthquakes and volcanoes usually occur along lines of weakness that is where the shrinking of the earth's interior bakes wrinkles in the earth's surface.

We are now in a period of volcanic activity following a shrinking of the interior and exterior of the globe which is considered to have been about equal.

As the lines of volcanic activity nearly always run along the borders of seas and lakes the water from these lakes or seas percolates through the ground until it reaches the molten rocks which it is claimed underline our universe. Here the water is converted into steam at enormous temperature and pressure. For years the water continues to feed this gigantic terrestrial boiler until at last the pressure becomes so great that there is an explosion.

American Accountants Study Japan Shipping

(International News Service)

TOKIO, Sept. 30.—A group of American accountants has arrived in Japan to aid in settlement of the longstanding dispute between leading Japanese shipping lines and the American government over payment of wartime profits taxes.

The Japanese objected to certain taxes levied between 1916 and 1919, and the question has not yet been settled. The accountants will go over the company books in an effort to straighten matters out.

Five Reels Of A. E. F. Activities Soon Out To American Legion Posts

(International News Service)

ROCHESTER, N. Y. Sept. 30.—Distribution to American Legion posts and the general public of five reels of signal corps film by the kodak concern working in co-operation with the War Department, the five reels give a vivid picture of all phases of America's participation in the World War.

The film was shown on ships bearing the second A. E. F. to Paris for their annual convention and met with enthusiastic reception, it was declared. After the legionnaires return the film will be made available to posts wishing an individual record. To this film will be added a reel showing the high lights of the Paris convention.

25,000 Crimes Being Studied To Find Cause

Survey Of Felonies Of 1926 May Lead To Plan For Prevention

Report Early Next Year Expected To Show Need Of Drastic Remedy

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—In a survey of Illinois crime by the Illinois Association for Criminal Justice 25,000 felonies committed in this state in 1926 are being studied to provide information as to the cause, it was disclosed here today.

The survey committee is the outcome of a resolution passed by the Illinois association more than a year ago. A donation of $100,000 was made by the Industrial club of Chicago for the survey, the results of which are expected to lead to some drastic measures of crime prevention.

Cost to Taxpayers.

Furthermore, the committee is counting the cost of crime to the taxpayers, each crime levying last year an average cost of $1,000 on the public treasury.

A preliminary report of the committee, to be ready early next year, is expected to show that a peak cost for crime must be reached when a desperate remedy will have to be applied.

Authorities have declared that this remedy may grow out of an aroused public sentiment. "Public sentiment will ultimately settle this problem," one of the members of the committee declared.

Juvenile Delinquency.

Juvenile delinquincy is also being studied by a community research committee of the University of Chicago, the cost of the survey being borne jointly by the crime association and the Rockefeller Foundation. This work is receiving the cooperation of the institute for juvenile research of Illinois.

A similar survey of criminal conditions made in Missouri shocked the public into an indignation that led to some salutory corrections. The Illinois Association for Criminal Justice promised a scientific study of organized crime, especially as it is maintained in Chicago, which it believes will stagger the community.

"Cooling Off Period Is Offered As Preventive For Divorce, By Judge

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 30.—A "cooling off period" of six months has been suggested by Common Pleas Judge Walter McMahon as a possible preventative of divorce.

"When a young married couple files suit for divorce, the pair should be allowed about half a year to think it over, before coming into court to air their troubles to the world," Judge McMahon declares.

"Three times out of five they will make up and the judge will never hear of the broken promises and dishes that lead to the parting of the marital ways. It is really the 'cooling off' period in most cases, for tempers die down and common sense and good reason supplant them in the six month period.

"I wouldn't think of hearing a divorce case before the principles have had half a year to think things over," Judge McMahon concluded, "especially where there are children. I find that the cooling off period works miracles."

Osage Indians Go To Legion Meeting In Full War Paint

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept 30.—War paint and wampum, tomahawks and feathers will be revived when full-blooded Osage Indians attend the American Legion convention in Paris this month.

Fourteen full-blooded Osage "braves", who fought in the United States expeditionary forces in France are on their way to Paris to attend the Legion convention.

The Indians, who are members of Rollie McCartney Post, No. 97, of Pawhuska, Oklahoma, will parade in Paris wearing the full Indian regalia of long ago.

One of the members of the Osage party is Joseph Mills of the "Saucy Chief" band of the Osages, who was wounded in the Meuse-Argonne campaign. He is a member of the Osage County Voiture, No. 489, La Societe 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux. He is a national officer in this organization with the title of Sous Garde de la Porte Nationale.

Two Contenders For Bus Franchise To Get Hearing

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 30.—Testimony will be taken at Sharon Friday, Oct. 14, on the rival applications of Moyer & Sons and the P.-O. coach system for a franchise to operate a bus line between Sharon and Conneaut Lake. Attorney Charles H. Young of New Castle, who was recently appointed by Governor Fisher as a member of the public service commission, will hear the applications.

The rivalry for the franchise is sharp. As yet no intimation has been given regarding the rates either applicant wishes to charge. At present the P.-O. is charging 50 cents from Sharon to Youngstown, while the Moyers chage $1 between Sharon and Mercer, which is about the same distance.

Automobile Driver Strikes Five Cows, Wrecks His Machine

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 30.—Russell Hindmand of Kittanning had an automobile accident near Worthington that resulted in the spilling of a herd of five cows over the road and badly damaging Mr. Hindman's automobile.

The motorist was driving from Worthington to Kittanning and W. A. Linaberger, who resides along the highway, was driving his herd across the highway. The cows and motorcar reached the same spot at the same time. All five of the cows were thrown to the pavement and none was seriously injured. The automobile was badly damaged, but the driver was uninjured.

U. S. Companies Fight World Organization Of Wires And Radio

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—American communication companies will vigorously oppose amalgamation of world radio and wire conventions at the forthcoming sessions of the International Radiotelegraph Conference to assemble here October 4.

Thos was made clear in presentation by representatives of the American radio, wire and cable companies to the American delegation considering American proposals to be submitted to the International conference.

The American companies take the position that private companies should be free to make their own management regulations and should be free to make such agreements with other operating companies of government administrations as they desire.

In any international arrangement amalgamating telegraph and radio control the United States should stay outside Col. Manton Davis spokesman for the Radio Corporation of America declared.

Missionary Capital To Have Airplane Service

(International News Service)

TOKIO, Sept. 30. — The mountain resort of Karuizawa, sometimes called the "missionary capital" of the Orient, because hundreds of American and British missionaries spend long vacations there, is to have an airplane passenger service from Tokio. Test flights have been made, and half a dozen planes ordered, which will cover in 30 minutes the distance requiring five hours by train. The fare has been fixed very low—only $5.

School Boy Is Killed By Truck

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sept. 30.—Running around the rear end of a street car in Rochester directly in front of an approaching truck, Lawrence Stark, an eight-year-old school boy of Rochester township received injuries which resulted in his death a few minutes later while he was being rushed to the Rochester General hospital. His neck had been broken and his chest crushed. The accident occurred in front of the Hotel Lincoln at the intersection of New York and Brighton avenues. It is said that the boy had carried his lunch to school and that after having eaten it was taking a walk about town when the accident occurred.

IDENTIFY BODY OF MAN FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

Jones And Laughlin Policeman Identifies Slain Man As His Brother

(International News Service)

CANNONSBURG, Pa., Sept. 30.—The body of a man found shot to death near Hendersonville late yesterday was identified here today as that of Joseph Talamo, 26, 1618 Edna street, Pittsburgh, by his brother Ross, a coal and iron policeman for the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co.

Ross Talamo was unable to advance any theory for the killing of his brother, stating that he was born and raised in Pittsburgh, never having left the city except to serve in the army during the World war.

Talamo told authorities here that an unidentified man visited his brother at his home in Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon and after talking to him a short while departed. He said his brother told his wife a short while later that he was going to "the corner", and left the house without a coat or hat.

That was the last seen of his brother, Talamo told authorities.

The brother was found with five bullet holes in his body. Three bullets had entered his head at the base of the skull and two had entered his chest.

Authorities here expressed the belief the man ha been killed on the spot where he was found, apparently having been "taken for a ride" and murdered.

No Offense For Dry Agents Not Reporting Cases

Says No Law That Prosecutes Dry Agents For Failure To Perform Duty

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—It's no criminal offense for a federal dry agent to refuse to report known violators of the 18th amendment to U. S. district attorneys for prosecution, the department of justice held today.

Solicitor General William P. Mitchell, in a brief filed in the supreme court, argued that John P. Donelly, former prohibition director for Nevada, was wrongfully convicted and fined for failing to report a violator for prosecution.

The federal district court of Nevada upheld the conviction by a jury, while the circuit court of appeals at San Francisco, after puzzling over the question, sent it on to the supreme court without making a decision.

Although the department of justice is appearing in the case nominally to back the position of the federal authorities of Nevada, it actually joined in the argument made by Donnelly's attorneys.

Under the interpretation given the prohibition act by the Nevada court, the commissioner of internal revenue and all agents are criminally liable for failure to report violations. The government and Donnelly's attorneys argue that congress intended that dry agents should do their duty but shouldn't be prosecuted for not doing it.

Try Magnesia For Indigestion

People who suffer from indigestion usually have tried pepsin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and got little more than slight temporary relief—sometimes not even that.

But before giving up to chronic dyspepsia, just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but pure Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powder or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or four tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment, and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You can enjoy your meals without a fear of indigestion.

Govt. Restores Game And Food Fish In Rivers

Extended Campaign For Purpose Of Restocking Country's Waters

117,000,000 Game Fish Distributed In Various Sections Last Year

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. — The United States government is conducting an extended campaign to restore America's game and food fisheries.

Despite President Coolidge's leaning toward the old fashioned custom of baiting one's hook with a worm, the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries is stocking the rivers and lakes with educated fish that on occasion will strike to flies as well as live bait.

While the food fisheries are regarded as most important about 117,000,000 of strictly game fish were distributed in American waters during the last year. Part of the game variety were raised at the various hatcheries operated by the bureau, while a large number were derived from the salvage work conducted in the overflowed areas of the Upper Mississippi during the recent floods.

Angler's Demands

"In spite of an annual increase in production of game fish, the demands of the anglers cannot be met fully, and a considerable number of applications must be carried over each year to be filled from the next season's output," declared Henry O'Malley, commissioner of fisheries.

"This is largely due to the fact that in many sections of the country the provision of an initial stock which by natural reproduction will replenish the waters, does not suffice and the hatcheries must provide the fish that the sportsmen are to capture."

Distribution Problem

During the past year the Bureau has distributed about 6,500,000,000 "fish units," including adult fish, fingerlings, fry and eggs, in the government's fishcultural activity. More than 5,000,000,000 represented the eggs and fry of only four marine species—the cod, haddock, pollock and winter flounder.

About 300,000,000 comprised other important commercial fishes, such as the Pacific salmon, Great Lakes whitefish and herring, shad and pike perch, or wall-eyed pike, and lake trout.

In order to deposit these fish in waters where they might grow to maturity, the bureau's distribution cars travelled 63,500 miles, while detached messengers carrying fish traveled an additional 363,500 miles according to a report made to Secretary of Commerce Hoover by Commissioner O'Malley.

Mother, Child And $2,500 Are Missing

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 30.—Following the sudden and mysterious disappearance of his pretty 32-year-old wife, Anna, and their nine-year-old daughter, Margaret, and $2,500 in cash from their home two days ago, George Evans, 21 West A street, has taken steps to institute a nation-wide search for the couple. Fears are held for the safety of the woman and her daughter by members of her family, with the possibility that the woman has been the victim of foul play. The woman's husband, however, is inclined to believe she left their home voluntary as she packed and took with her all of her personal belongings and those of the child.

Girl Evangelist Is Interested In Boy Sheik And Girl Flapper

By HARRY BLOOMBARGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Some say she is unusual, a phenomenon, one whose mind runs only to religion; but 15-year-old Uldine Utley, evangelist extraordinary who for five years through her preaching, has brought happiness to thousands in all parts of the United States, told visitors that she is just an ordinary human being trying to do what was mapped out for her.

Miss Utley, who is here for several weeks evangelism, is interested mostly, she says, in the "boy sheik and girl flapper" for whom she feels sorry and pities. They are uphappy in anything they do, this young preacher explained.

"These so-called sheiks and flappers do not appreciate the good things in life, Miss Utley asserted. "They do not appreciate the gifts that God has made for them and would give them if they would just listen to him. They are always hungering for something they haven't got."

Rev. Utley, has the unusual poise of a 30 year old woman. There is nothing sensational or bombastic in her preaching, it is said. However, her forcefulness carries more than usual interest to her hearers. She says she never prepares her sermons, but always has a text from the Bible which she develops as she "goes along."

This blond, blue-eyed evangelist is fond of athletics and is quite a tennis enthusiast. Swimming is also one of her favorite sports. Golf, she said, is "too slow"

Miss Utley told visitors she wanted to be a dancer and it was the last thing in her thoughts to be a preacher.

"One day I asked God to let me do something for him. I opened the Bible to Matthew X-7 and 8 and read "As ye go, preach. Freely ye have received, freely give." Then I knew the good God would open the doors for me and he has since then always kept them open for me. So I am giving to as many as I can the good things God has shown me."

Alleged Forger Of New Castle Is Caught By Banker

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 30. — Fellow bankers today were congratulating O. Nelson Rushworth, president of a local bank, who captured an alleged armed check forger single handed. Bank employes became suspicious when Bert Aizner, said to be from New Castle, Pa., presented a check. While they were checking up, Aizner, scenting trouble, made a dash for the door just as Mr. Rushworth entered. He grappled with the man, held him until a policeman arrived.

Lion Eleven Ready For Affray With Battlefield Boys

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 30.—It is a hungry Lion eleven that awaits the onslaught of Coach Bill Wood's Gettysburg Bullets here tomorrow afternoon, which will be the second game that the Penn State team has played this season.

The Penn State and Gettysburg elevens will run through a light signal drill this afternoon and will then be ready for their game tomorrow in New Beaver field.

The Lions downed Lebanon Valley last week by a 27-0 score, and the Gettysburg combination defeated American University 31-0.

Capital Torn By Arguments Over Curb On Ocean Flying

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. — It's lucky there were no anti-stunting regulations in Columbus' day, or we might never have been discovered.

That's the burden of the aviation enthusiasts' song just now.

There's talk of a move by President Coolidge to put a crimp into reckless trans-oceanic plan voyages.

It simply sickens the enthusiasts—not necessarily all actual birdmen, but also numerous kiwis, who admit they're not in the habit of soaring aloft themselves but nevertheless want to see the art developed.

Mankind can't conquer the skies this side of the millenium unless he takes some chances and makes a good many sacrifices on the altars of the gods of same—by the way, who is the god of aviation?

That's the enthusiasts' argument.

Columbus! Yes, and Magellan and Vespucius and Da Gama! A fine thing it would have been for the progress of the human race in the 15th century if all those boys had been kept at home because Ferdinand and Isabella, Henry the Navigator and others hadn't believed in stunting!

Wouldn't it?—demand the aviation enthusiasts.

Ah, but, it appears, according to more conservative folks who have discussed the subject with him, President Coolidge doesn't consider that gang consisted of stunt fiends.

He doesn't think Lindy was one. He considers Lindy a pathfinder, like Columbus and Magellan et al, in their generation.

There's a difference between legitimate, if hazard, pioneering, and near, if not quite, suicidal stunting, as the president's quoted as expressing it.

Aw, bosh! rejoin the enthusiasts—if Columbus and Magellan and Henry Hudson and the Cabots weren't just as much stunt fiends as the most reckless of present day aviators—the enthusiasts would like to know—who was?—among those early seafaring men.

Well, the president's quoted as opining, he'd say the Flying Dutchman was.

Yes, the president's reported to believe that it would have been an excellent thing for all concerned if Vanderdecken had been subject to restraining influences—better for him, better for his crew, better for his owners and much better for all the shipmasters who—if there's anything to the mariner's time-honored superstition—have lost stout vessels as a result of sighting him, still bucking head winds off the Cape of Good Hope, after two or three centuries' trying to make good on that silly stunt of his.

What President Coolidge is urged to do is to put it up to F. Trubee Davison, Edward P. Warner and William P. MacCracken, Jr., assistant secretaries respectively of the war, navy and commerce departments, especially in charge of aviation, to decide what's best to be done about trans-oceanic flying.

The administration doesn't want it discouraged, and that's one reason why it inclines to favor a certain amount of regulation. If it gets to be recognized as almost sure death to venture over salt water in an aeroplane, experts are afraid the effect will be exceedingly discouraging—not, perhaps, to stunt devotees, but to the systematic development of inter-continental aviation.

It's evident that there's bound to be violent opposition to any interference with it, but if surface ships can be made to comply with reasonable safety requirements before leaving port, government authorities don't see why planes can't be required to do so, too—passenger-carrying planes, anyway.

Swiss Village Moves In Fear Of Peak's Fall

Mount Motto Arbino Is Expected To Topple And People Scatter

Summit At 5,500 Feet Has Subsided Many Yards In Recent Years

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Sept. 30.—Nature has taken the form of war in one of the Swiss districts near here. Inhabitants of the villages have been told by order of the government to evacuate their homes, remove all livestock and leave their lands, and the district is expected to be entirely deserted within a short time. Yet to anyone visiting the spot there would seem no cause as everything is calm and the towns appear as they did ten years ago.

These towns are situated however at the foot of Mount Motto Arbino, near the town of Bellizona and it is this mountain which is causing much anxiety in Switzerland.

Ready To Tumble

The summit of which has given warning that it will tumble over onto the inhabitants of the valley beneath it, destroying everything in its path.

Measuring over 100,000 square yards, the summit, which is 5,500 feet high, has subsided several yards in the past years and the movement has now become so great that the government is making a monthly examination of the crevasses. As a result of recent geological reports the government decreed that a large number of the villages in the neighborhood must be evacuated, leaving an area of deserted villages.

The platform of the summit has long been slipping horizontally at the rate of nearly an inch a year, and since 1888 a watch has been kept on the platform.

Rocks Falling

Projecting rocks have at times broken off, being hurled hundreds of yards into the abyss. A number of times these rocks have rolled down on top of houses killing the occupants.

When the underlying mass of rock gives way—an event which it is believed inevitable, the whole plateau, will crash into the valley.

Although it cannot be ascertained when this moving Alp will tumble, the fact that the crevasses have widened this year over three times as much as in previous years, it is believed there is great danger.

KENNETH SMITH VICTIM WHEN PLANE CRASHES AT FARM NEAR FAIR

indistinct words to his son Clare, who was riding with him in the ambulance. He died at 6:45 p. m.

Last Trip of Day

It was the last trip that the pilot was to make before he returned to his home field in Youngstown. Clare Smith, son of the man who was killed, saw his father coming onto the field and asked Castle to take his father for a ride. Martin, who was also at the field, wanted to go up as a paid passenger. Slowly the plane taxied down the field and took off.

When Castle was banking, preparatory to landing, the accident occurred. As he was flying over the fair grounds the motor began to miss, but picked up again as he approached the field. As he entered the bank, Castle affirms that his motor went out completely.

"I was about 200 feet in the air when the motor went dead," states Castle. "I went into a tight spiral, and although I pulled on the stick as hard as I could, I could not seem to straighten the plane out. I worked on it until the last moment and then I ducked. I guess that was all that saved me.

"Somehow I had a feeling before I made the last trip that I should not do it," he went on. "But I did it as an accommodation for Clare Smith."

"I believe that the accident was caused by faulty gasoline. I noticed on the previous trip that the gasoline was not working properly. I do not know what was the matter with it."

Plane Strikes Nose Down

The plane hit nose down in the corn field just a few feet from the road, after tearing a path about 15 yards long through the corn. Then it overturned, pinning both Smith and Martin under the plane. The water connection to the radiator of the ship broke, scalding Martin's leg.

Immediately the crowd from the fair grounds rushed to the scene of the accident and almost demolished the plane in their frantic efforts to be of aid, which served rather to retard rescue work.

By using the propeller of the plane as a bar, Edwart Ort of 1014 Adams street, with others, rescued Smith without much difficulty. It appeared, states Ort, that Smith was trying to climb from the machine when it hit. Martin was caught under the exhaust pipe and entangled in the control wires, but, by dint of much effort, rescuers managed to get him free after cutting the wires.

The two injured men, with Castle, were rushed to the New Castle hospital, where Smith died. His body was taken to the Rice undertaking parlors to be prepared for burial.

Mr. Rice states that the body was in a terrible condition. Not only was the skull crushed, but the right side was caved in.

Clare B. Smith of 1013 Adams street, son of the dead man, was in charge of the flights, which were being made from the fair grounds. He had franchised the available fields about New Castle and then engaged Castle to fly for him. Castle owns his own plane. In the excitement which followed the smash the day's receipts fell from his pockets and were lost.

As he saw his father coming onto the field he said to Castle: "How about making another trip? My father has never been up and I know that he wants to take a ride."

At the hospital, where he stopped for a few minutes last evening to see Castle, Clare Smith declared that it was only the presence of another passenger that deterred his wife from making the trip with his father and possibly being killed.

W. E. Patton, farmer, in whose corn field the accident occurred, says that the plane was immediately above his house when it went into the spin. His wife called his attention to it, and just a few seconds afterwards the accident happened.

The plane in which Castle was making the flights was a large Lincoln-Standard, made at Lincoln, Neb., and was powered with an eight-cylinder Hispano-Suiza motor.

The wife of the aviator was reached by wire and told that her husband was not injured seriously.

Airmen from the Watson Field came to New Castle late last evening and attempted to salvage the ship, but could find little.

Trespass notices were posted on the field by Mr. Patton, the owner.

Samuel Rohrer was an eye-witness to the crash and helped to remove the injured from under the plane. Mr. Rohrer said: "With my brother-in-law, Clare Gorley, I was driving up the road approaching the fair grounds. We saw the plane flying low, and to my mind he was flying too low to be dipping and zooming the way he was.

"Suddenly the plane dropped over on its side, much like a stunt plane going into a 'falling leaf', and in an instant it was in a spin headed for the ground. We rushed over to the spot where it fell and found that Mr. Smith was jammed under the motor. After some difficulty we succeeded in extricating him, but he appeared to be nearly dead."

Coroner James P. Caldwell is conducting a thorough investigation into the accident.

The plane was being used in an individual enterprise and was not a fair feature, officers of the fair announced today.

Kenneth Smith was born at Sandy Lake, Pa., September 15, 1875, a son of Samuel and Bessie Carnahan Smith. He had been a resident of this city for 30 years and was a member of the Smith & Bauman contractors.

He was a faithful and consistent member of the Central Christian church, Long and Pennsylvania avenues and was an elder of the church and the teacher of the Young Men's Bible class of the Bible school.

Besides his wife, Mellie Reed Smith to whom he was united in marriage 32 years ago he leaves the following children: Lee, Joseph, Clare, Leonard, Mont and Miss Dayle Smith, all of this city. He also leaves three brothers, Earl and Roy Smith of Stoneboro and Mont Smith of Sandy Lake and three sisters, Mrs. Enice Patton and Mrs. George Tribby of New Castle and Mrs. Effie Patton of Sandy Lake.

Funeral services will take place Saturday, October 1 at 4 p. m. from the residence on Maryland avenue. Burial will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

More Airports Needed To Aid Aviation Boom

New Interest In Use Of Airplane Encouraged At New England Conference

Governors Of Six States To Send Representatives To Boston

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—New and improved airports, increased interest in manufacturing for aviation and steadily increasing use of the airplane—these are New England's aviation developments up for discussion at the New England Aviation conference this month.

Official representatives of the governor's of the six New England states will be on hand as well as industrialists, community leaders and aviation enthusiasts. Mayors of New England cities either will send representatives or attend in person.

A feature of the conference will be an exhibit of all the parts of an airplane, thus showing New England manufacturers what they can make for this industry. Another is a large map showing the types of airplane landing fields in New England that are needed and a suggested location for each type. A model of a first class airport will be prepared.

To Discuss Problems.

Most of the conference will be devoted to an open discussion of the problems facing New England in her aviation development program.

In this connection recent developments in aviation in the six New England states were brought to mind by the New England council:

Concord, N. H., and Hartford, Conn., entered planes in the New York-Spokane Air Derby.

W. B. Hazzard, Gardiner, Maine, shoe manufacturer, chartered an airplane and made his first shipment of shoes from factory to store by air.

A construction company in Plainville, Conn., spent $115.20 in postage to have a new part for a machine sent by air mail but saved $384.80 by so doing.

Claremont, N. H., announces an aviation meet on October 6, 7, 8.

A seaplane meet was staged off New Haven, Conn., this month.

Twenty-nine cities in New England filed with the United States Department of Commerce intentions of building an airport.

On Cape Cod.

Foresters on Cape Cod have found the airplane valuable in spraying trees attacked by gypsy moth.

A Hartford, Conn., manufacturer of airplane motors is increasing his working space and adding 50 per cent to the working force due to increased orders. The company already occupies five floors of a large factory building.

Markers for aviators are being painted on the roofs of large buildings in Portsmouth, Concord and Manchester, N. H., and other New England communities.

Lowell and Fitchburg, Mass., have launched movements for airports and to bring the aviation industry to those manufacturing cities.

Wilkes-Barre Man Stands Accused Of Numerous Crimes

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 30.—B. H. McKeenan, now in jail here in default of $20,000 bail in connection with the theft and conversion of $79,000 worth of Bridgeport, Conn. municipal bonds from the office of R. W. Poor, of the Garfield Bank, New York, today was accused by authorities of the disposal of bonds stolen in a holdup in Wisconsin and others taken from two New York offices.

Details of the investigation into the alleged bond ring were revealed today.

Five Portland, Ore., municipal bonds, part of the $250,000 loot in a holdup at Columbus, Wis., in October, 1926, were found in a Plymouth, Pa., bank, it was revealed. The authorities said the bonds were placed there by McKeenan. Five bonds of the Polish Republic, stolen from the office of Vilas and Hickey, 49 Wall street, New York, on August 29, 1927, also were found there, having been placed as collateral, officials said.

Two bonds, stolen from an office at 165 Broadway, New York, September 19, 1927, were found at an Ashley, Pa., bank.

Cities And Boros Will Regulate Own Traffic Under Code

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 30.—Authority to regulate traffic within the limits of municipalities and boroughs will be entirely in the hands of local authorities despite provisions of the new motor code which becomes effective January 1, next, the department of justice held today.

An opinion to that effect was written by Deputy Attorney General Roscoe Koch and forwarded to James L. Stuart, secretary of highways, erection of traffic control light and maintenance of traffic policemen where traffic is heavy was cited as one instance where the authority of local ordinance making bodies will be unaffected by the uniform traffic code.

It was pointed out, however, that all prosecutions brought locally for violations of the code or local ordinances, must be considered as having been brought under the new act.

Local ordinances for traffic control may not contravene, curtail or alter the motor code provisions, the opinion held.

Fines collected for violations of local ordinances will go to the municipalities at present. The opinion upholds the provision for uniform operation and interpretation of signal lights, one of the underlying motives of the bill.

Lockhart Builds Car For Speed Record

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 30.—"The American straight-away dirt record of 187 miles per hour, which I hold, isn't going to stand for long," said Frank Lockhart, youthful Dayton, O., auto racing driver, following his sensational victory here recently in the 100 mile North Randall event, during which he set 101 new records.

"I'm building a car," Lockhart declared, "which will be ready by the first of the year and it's going to beat the 203 miles per hour set by Major Seagrave's mystery car, "The Sunbeam," last winter in Florida. My car will only be about one-tenth as large as the Sunbeam, too."

New records in seven distances were set by the 23-year-old Lockhart in the 100 mile race here September 25, which he completed without making a single stop.

Tobacco Sales In Middle Belt To Net Riches

Piedmont Warehouses To Open Doors To Buyers Of Big 1927 Crop

Record-Breaking Season Seen On Face Of Returns From Early Selling

By HENRY LESESNE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 30.—Millions of pounds of bright-leaf, flue-cured tobacco lay in neatly assorted piles on the floors of Piedmont North Carolina's giant warehouses today, ready to be turned into money for the growers tomorrow when auction sales begin on the Middle Belt.

Tobacconists expected that tomorrow's sales would start the belt off on a record-breaking season, in view of the large sales reported on the earlier markets, and the price average of more than $20 a hundred that has been maintained. Government estimates have placed North Carolina's weed production this year at more than 28,000,000 pounds above last year's.

It was estimated that if the Middle Belt markets get their share of the predicted increase, it would exceed by several million pounds in bumper sales of 133,799,006 pounds last year. The 1926 figures represented an increase of 26,465,736 pounds over the 1925 sales figures for the Middle Belt.

Possible Congestion

Tobacco has been pouring into the warehouses for several days, and it was thought that a possible congestion would be caused on some of the larger markets. This condition existed two weeks ago when the Eastern North Carolina markets opened, causing millions of pounds of the weed to go over until the next day's sales.

Growers of the Middle Belt have been observing closely the price ranges on the Eastern Carolina markets that have just opened. Despite the fact that opening prices are always low because of the inferior grades of leaf that are invariably offered, reports from these markets indicated that an average in the neighborhood of $20 per hundred was being maintained.

Accurate figures on the sales and prices on the Eastern North Carolina markets will not become available until about the middle of next month, when the State Department compile and issues the various market standings. Growers also are eagerly awaiting the reports expected within a few days stating the sales and price averages on the North Carolina border markets which opened last month.

May Flood Market

Some tobacconists were naturally wondering whether or not the record receipts on the newly-opened Eastern Carolina markets will tend to flood the market and send prices on a downward trend. Others, however, were quite confident that the increasing demand for tobacco of the cigarette type the world over would more than offset the bumper production.

Sales will get under way tomorrow morning on a majority of the dozen markets that comprise the middle belt of Piedmont, N. C.

The next Southeastern tobacco belt to open is the Old Bright Belt of North Carolina and Virginia. Danville, Va., and Winston-Salem, N. C., are two of the principal markets on this belt. Sales will start in this region on October 4.

A committee waited on Mayor Sander at his office tonight and demanded that he rescind the appointment of Howard Wickersham, Republican organization leader, as safety director. Sander refused and the ministers issued a prepared statement, disowning the administration and withdrawing the support of the churches.

East Side Americanized; Bowery Is Gone; And Chinatown Is Tamed

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The famed "East Side" is not what it used to be.

Gone is the old Bowery; the picturesque characters such as "Gyp the Blood"; the ruthless and crooked politicians; the houses of ill repute; the distressing poverty; the rows of dilapidated tenements—and many other evidences of a primitive type of people who fifteen or twenty years ago were subject matter for the writers of vivid fact and fiction.

The immigration laws, destricting the influx from foreign countries, have wrought a decided change.

Today, the East Side is pretty much Americanized. Instead of a babble of tongues you hear the English language along the "Sidewalks of New York." You see intelligent young men studying in the night schools; you hear the older men discussing with a knowing air such matters as Mr. Coolidge not "choosing" to run again and Al Smith's chances of becoming president; you see neat, Silk-stockinged flappers "ankling" along in the approved Fifth Avenue manner and you notice that there are less children wild on the streets than years ago.

Chinatown Is Tamed

Chinatown, in the heart of the East Side, has tamed down considerably and a tong war is now quite an event. The merchants of Chinatown in itself a little city, have learned by experience that tong wars are disapproved in America, and that they don't pay.

True, there are pushcarts still, but they are becoming fewer and fewer and are being propelled by elderly men who can't do anything else to earn a livelihood. Like the bootblacks of the Horatio Alger novels they are becoming noticeably scarcer.

The apache-like gangsters of twenty years ago have been replaced by a numerically smaller type of "sheik" gunmen whose activities are largely devoted to defeating the aim of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution. They regard bootlegging as a nice, refined business.

Tammany Remains

Tammany Hall still is located on East Fourteenth street but the grip of politicians on the community has slipped tremendously, and politicians are no longer the "high muckity-mucks" they used to be. Other community influences are more powerful.

Tenement life is giving way to a movement to rectify conditions in this respect. Mayor "Jimmy" Walker has just completed a study of the housing situation in Europe and steps are under way to wipe out the last vestage of the slums of New York, which are in the East Side.

The police have long since driven out the women of easy virtue. A restricted districted is a thing of the far distant past.

People from out of town who wend their way to that busy section at Forty-second and Broadway are importuned to make "slumming" trips in big busses to the East Side—to "see Chinatown at night" and the other sights. They may be thrilled by the superficial appearance of a strange and exotic foreign city in New York when they are driven to, say Rivington and Delancy streets, but rest assured, readers, it isn't the old ghetto. Neither is Chinatown the Chinatown of 1900 or 1910. Things are so quiet at night in Chinatown now that the Chinese, with an eye for business, have to "rib up" sights to show the curious and the sights are so tame that the visitors who come to be shocked are invaribaly disappointed.

Greenwich Village Wanes

Even the far-famed Greenwich Village, located on the western fringe of the lower East Side, has lost nearly all of its individuality and recovered all of its respectability. There are a dozen or two cafes and cabarets with queer names making a pretense. The old, spontaneous naughtiness of the Village is gone. There is no cry going up for "freedom." Everybody seems to have it now. Girls don't have to go to Greenwich Village to smoke cigarettes or bob their hair.

So, in viewing the East Side of today you find that most of its oldtime ugliness and sordidness has vanished; that the older stock of the Ghetto has become, with amazing swiftness, a new stock; that the immigrants of yesterday are pretty well off today.

Posing As Officers Men Rob Farm House

Posing as "limbs of the law," but evidently in search of money not liquor, six men entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCluskey, on the Pulaski road, about three miles from Pulaski on Wednesday night, September 28, and stole $17.00 in money and some eggs, according to report made today.

The incident occurred about 11 o'clock, Mrs. McCluskey who was alone in the house at the time, answered a rap at the back-door and was greeted by two tall and husky men. The men informed the aged woman that they were officers and that they were there for the purpose of searching the home for liquor. A warrant and badge was flashed by a man.

Mrs. McCluskey being feeble and aged, and of Polish descent, could not read the warrant and after she had told the intruders her name, they said that it was the right home. They proceeded to read the warrant and then to ransack the home.

The men at first acted very rough with the woman, but when they noticed a small child in the room, they calmed down and treated her with more respect.

The husband was in the barn at the time of the raid, and when accosted by the other searchers in the party, became enraged and grabbed a pitch-fork, but seeing that it would be useless to fight with three or four men, relented and stood by idle, while the marauders ransacked the barn and shed.

The robbery was discovered by Joseph Gramsky, an employe of the New Castle Tin Mill, and grandson of the McCluskey's. Gramsky returned home from work about midnight and was informed of the raid. After a check-up of the home, it was found that the money, which had been in the living room was missing. Upon investigation of the barn it was found that the eggs were gone.

It was quite evident that the men were after money. A bankbook was concealed in a clothes-basket in the living room, and they emptied it, and scanned the book, but did not keep it.

The queer part of the case is the fact that the men never identified themselves, they just said that they were there for the purpose of searching the home for liquor, and showed their badge. It is quite clear from the egg robbery and also the money that the men were "fakers."

Both Mr. and Mrs. McCluskey have stated that they would be able to identify the men if they were apprehended. Arrest of the marauders is not very likely, it is believed that it was a group of men touring through the country and that they just stopped for the purpose of robbery and are more than likely miles away from the scene by this time.

There has been similar cases of this kind reported before, where men posing as "agents" have entered homes and robbed aged persons.

The matter was reported to District Attorney Elder Bryan and County Detective William Fleming.

England Wants To Get Canada Coal Business

Opens Intensive Campaign To Recapture Trade For English Mines

America Now Is Selling 15,000,000 Tons A Year Across Border

By J. K. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 30. — An intensive campaign to capture the bulk of the Canadian coal trade from America by means of studying Canadian requirements and by the eventual cheapening of transportation, is being made by British coal owners, in order to restore pre-war prosperity to English mines.

At the present time, America is receiving 15,000,000 tons of trade a year from Canada, and an appeal, based on patriotic grounds, is being made to the manufacturers and transport firms of the Dominion urging them to transfer this to the British Isles.

Due to the fact that Canada border on the United States, it is the general opinion that American products can be shipped to the Dominion much less than from England and for this reason British coal would not stand any chance in competition.

Denounced In Britain

This is rigidly denounced as a delusion, by British manufacturers who point out that most American coal has to stand a long and costly rail haul another fairly long water trip before reaching the principal cities in Canada. Therefore, as the majority of England's pits are almost within sight of ports, together with the reduction in shipping rates by British companies for the transportation of home goods to the dominions the cost will be even less than that of American products.

The British manufacturers go on transporting a ton of coal from a British pit to a Canadian city will be brought down to a little over two dollars and fifty cents. While the minimum overland transport on United States coal from the nearest pits to the chief Canadian cities is nearly 5 dollars a ton, and the average about seven dollars.

New Combination

Coal owners, merchants, and shippers are also combining, preparing plants to screen, grade, and wash coal on the lines to which Canadians are accustomed. They are exploring the possibilities of return cargoes of Newfoundland iron ore to feed blast furnaces in place of Spanish ore.

In the great Latin-American Republics—the Argentine, Brazil and Chile—where England lost a great deal of trade to the United States after the war and up to the 1926 strike, British representatives are striving to regain the pre-war position. Inclusive rail and boat costs from pits on this side to ports in South America are being reduced nearly to the level of the American rates.

This is only a part of a special drive which is being made by Britain to regain old markets and acquire new ones. In Italy she is fighting desperately against the competition of German, Polish, Czecho-Slovakian, and American markets.

Have You Lights in Your Home

—that are kind to your Eyes?

REMEMBER THAT PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN CURE

Nature constructed your eyes for horizontal rays, for outdoor light which comes directly down, therefore eyes are naturally shielded from light of sun and sky by forehead, brows and lashes. The Duplex-a-lite embodies this principal of nature—flooding an entire room with warm sunshine. Be kind to your eyes—investigate Duplex-a-lite.

Make This Test

TEAR out this advertisement and place it under good light. Stand fifteen feet away. Cover one eye with a card. Spell out the letters, one by one, using each eye separately. With normal sight you should be able to read these letters correctly.

If the test is satisfactory, your vision is normal—protect it from poor lighting, from gloom and glare—conserve it with Duplex-a-lite. A little care in checking your eyes from time to time will protect you from many of the discomforts of defective sight.

Refer Grade Report To School Board

On motion of Chairman Burns today city council has notified the school district, city of New Castle of the recommendation of Engineer Miller in regard to the school board's request that Norwood avenue be graded from Albert street west a short distance.

Miller reported there is a descending grade which would allow water to gather and as there is a house nearby believes the avenue should be graded past the house.

Mr. Hoover isn't an active candidate, which is proof that the country isn't in bad enough fix to interest him.

Garbage Furnace Measure Passes

Ready to drop by noontime

SHE seemed to stay tired. Dragging through the hours—her lightest task too heavy. . . . What was the matter? Why, she used to be full of life and energy! What trick of fate had stolen her health? Had sapped her strength and set her nerves on edge?

Constipation takes awful toll from thousands of men and women. It thieves vitality. It wrecks energy. It dulls the heart and drives the body to pain. It destroys beauty and health itself, and often leads to serious disease. Yet it can be so easily prevented—so surely relieved! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—safely and promptly. To prevent this common curse ever starting its course,

ALL-BRAN vs. part-bran

It has "bulk" that relieves constipation. ALL-BRAN is all bulk. This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the intestines, at the same time gently distending them — purifying, removing poisonous wastes.

How different from part-bran products—in which the quantity of bulk is so small that there is seldom enough to be effective. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran.

Beware of drugs!

Contrast healthful ALL-BRAN with habit-forming pills and drugs, which often become useless unless the dose is constantly increased! ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream. And add fruits or honey for an extra treat. Let it soak in the milk for a few moments to bring out all its rich, nutty flavor. Serve it with other cereals. In soups. Try the recipes on every package. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Don't risk a part-bran substitute. Insist on genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants, cafeterias—on dining-cars. Made by the Kellogg Company in Battle Creek, Mich. Write for free "Treatise on Constipation."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

Large Exhibit Of Poultry Made At Local Fair

An unusually fine exhibit of poultry was on exhibit at the New Castle Fair this year. In addition to many entries of the poultry line there were exhibits of puppies that attracted especially the children.

There were dogs of several breeds including, Shepherds, Collies, Fox Hounds, and Coach Dogs.

J. F. Nelson of Grove City judged the poultry. On account of the large exhibits in certain classes it was a hard task to place the premiums. It is likely that the Barred Plymouth Rocks showed the largest exhibits with the White Leghorns, White Plymouth Rocks and Brown Leghorns, also being in large numbers with fine birds.

Several fowls caponized by J. L. Badger the local poultry man were on exhibit and made quite a showing.

HUNDREDS MORE ON INJURED LIST IN ST. LOUIS STORM

inforced today national guard united were being posted about to prevent looting and riots.

The storm, reaching St. Louis about 1 o'clock in the afternoon, gained in intensity as it tore through Manchester and Taylor avenues.

Widening out it spread northward to Prairie avenue, then east to Glasgow.

The tornado traveled at the rate of about 60 miles an hour. Accompanied by a terrific rainstorm, it tore through residences and factory buildings, uprooted trees, tore out telephone wires and toppled over street lamps.

In Illinois Towns

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—Five persons were known to be dead today in three Illinois towns that were struck by the tornado traveling northeast across the Mississippi river, Granite City, Venice and Madison.

The dead were Police Chief Michael Clifford of Venice; David Rhule, Nick Radick and W. L. Cotter, all of Granite City and Charles Heft, of Madison.

At least a score of persons suffered injuries as a result of the violent windstorm.

Town Is Wreck

Rudy, Ark., Sept. 30.—With the exception of approximately ten homes, the residence section of this town of 300 population was a total wreck today as a result of yesterday's tornado which injured more than a dozen persons.

Mrs. Mack Stanfield and the infant daughter of Mrs. Marvin Graham are probably fatally injured. Mrs. Stanfield has both hips broken and the infant is severely cut about the head.

Hit Central District.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—The storm hit the central district with the greatest fury, leaving Sarah street a tangle of wires to the northward.

From the shattered windows of her little confectionary store Mrs. John L. Bromick, was able to witness one of the most thrilling spectacles in the storm-ridden city.

The wires with their cross-circuits seemed to color the storm like flames.

"Thirty-five school children had just left after eating lunch, and were on their way back to school," she said, "when all of a sudden it became dark. I went to the door, suddenly the whole street seemed to be ablaze.

"I slammed the door, and held it shut fearing it would catch fire any minute.

"But the children, did they get safely to school?"

The school officials report early today indicated that by some miracle only a minimum of children suffered from the storm.

Earlier reports had Columbia Ames, Yeatman, Marquette and Central school buildings slightly damaged, and about forty pupils in all slightly cut by flying glass or bruised.

The total damage to school buildings of the city may reach an estimated $1,000,000, according to Ben Weidle, president of the board of education.

A citizens' committee, hastily organized, was in full cooperation with the Red Cross today in collecting funds for relief work. Charge of this work has already been taken over by the St. Louis chapter of the organization.

Stations hastily improvised were providing shelter for about 5,000 storm victims, and the National Guard armory by morning housed some 3,000 persons made homeless by the tornado.

From 600 to 1,000 members of the American Legion were out in the tornado-riddled area, helping in the work of rescue.

By noon today the devastated region was expected to be under the full control of the National Guard.

Hunt For Victims

St. Louis, Sept. 30—Augmented by 800 soldiers of the National Guard, hundreds of police, firemen and volunteers, the Red Cross workers continued to comb the ruins for additional victims.

All night the bodies of the dead and injured were being taken to various hospitals and morgues.

As body after body was being recovered from the debris of buildings, workers predicted that the total of deaths might reach or exceed 100.

A veritable wilderness of crumpled-up buildings, factories, dwelling-places and apartment houses confronted relief workers, as they ploughed through heap after heap of debris in search of bodies.

Police ran about shouting warnings all night to weeping women and children who were running about the streets seeking relatives, and to men digging frantically through the piled up wreckage in search of lost ones.

Confusion reigned throughout, with authorities working madly to clear the streets.

Damage Increases

The grim work of rescue went on all through the night, all through the morning hours, under candle and lantern light, as bodies were taken in clanging ambulances through the streets.

The immensity of the damage to life and property seemed to exceed all predictions as the work went on, so terrible was the picture of desolation spread out before the relief workers.

School children were returning from their noon hour recess when the tornado broke relentlessly upon the city.

Workmen were returning to labor. Young and old alike dashed wildly here and there seeking places of safety, as the tornado, aided by torrents of rain, went on with its work of destruction. Walls of buildings seemed to burst apart, bricks and glass and automobiles were tossed about like wisps.

There were patients in the Mullanphy hospital at the time the storm broke. The wind sideswiped the building, ripped the entire west wing to shreds, and sent the roof and upper floor crashing to the ground.

None was in that section at the time, but below were a score and more of expectant mothers or mothers with babies in arms—the maternity section.

The Columbia school, at 2750 Garrison avenue, was again struck by the elements. By curious circumstances this building has been wrecked by fire and storm several times during recent years. Approximately 700 pupils in the school were in their various class rooms when Principal G. H. Green took note of the approaching storm.

"I sounded the warning," he said. "The children all marched out of the building in perfect order. Just as the last one stepped out to safety the roof caved in and the third-floor class rooms were buried beneath tons of debris."

Next door to the Columbia school, the St. Nicholas Greek church was partly unroofed. Its windows were blown in. Directly north of it the Grace Evangelical Lutheran church lost its steeple.

Thirty men were at work in the Central Furniture Co., factory at 2527 St. Louis avenue, when, without a moment's warning, a torrent of rain fell and the front of the building collapsed.

"It was terrible," said Charles William, a chauffeur. "Before the wind died down I heard men screaming for help. I tried to get to them but another wall collapsed and I ran for my life. I don't know where I was going but it was getting away from there."

Nineteen men were trapped in this building but eighteen were extricated almost immediately and taken to their homes, none being seriously injured. One workman being unaccounted for.

A row of apartment houses at Slattery and Benton streets was literally ripped apart, the buildings being crumpled like paper mache.

TROOP 15

The First Christian church, Troop 15, held their weekly meeting Thursday evening at the church. Scoutmaster Sidney Smith and Assistant Scoutmaster George McCracken presided over the scouts present.

After the regular opening and business meeting Assistant McCracken gave a very interesting account of his visit to Springfield, Mass., where he attended the eighth annual encampment of scouts from all of the Eastern states at the Mohawk Indian village, located at the Eastern States exposition grounds.

Plans were completed for civic good turns, which are to take place soon. The Pine Tree patrol held a business meeting and plans were completed for a patrol party to be held Tuesday night. Each scout is to bring a friend to this party.

Through the courtesy of Charles T. Metzler, a motion picture projector and a number of interesting films are now in the possession of the troop.

The next meeting of this troop will take place at the First Christian church Thursday evening, October 6. All members of the troop are urged to be present.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

IN A HURRY.

Most of us go tramping along, thinking little about the historic past. The house where President Monroe died in New York, in 1831, was sold at public auction the other day. It brought little. The American Scenic and Historic Preservation society couldn't keep it up. The hurrying present takes all our time. But those who do not give thought to the past cannot learn to judge the meaning of the present. A study of the past gives us a measuring rod.

LEST WE FORGET.

The war isn't over for everybody John Pugh lost his memory in a great battle in France. He has now regained it but can't prove his identity. His right arm was wounded so that he has to write with his left. The government doesn't recognize his signature and he can't collect the money that is coming to him. He is hunting a sister who may tell the government who John is.

The World war did more things to more epople then we stop to realize. For many the war isn't over yet. This is no tome to let up on our gratitude. Let's hope every member of the Legion who is in France for the convention has the best time of his life.

STILL LEARNING.

The Nordensen camera utilizes a powerful light beam which pierces the eyeball with the clearness of an X-ray. It reveals so much that it is possible to diagnose for disease by just studying the eye. Specialists say the human eye is a reflector of practically every disease. And so the X-ray was not the last word. There is no last word. Invention is never finished. The possibilities of learning are like a measureless sea.

WHAT WE'RE USED TO.

A noted professor of psychology says jazz doesn't wreck our nerves. It is even soothing, he says. Perhaps it's all a relative matter. If you had spent all day in a boiler factory, or running a locomotive you might think even jazz restful. But if you had been listening to jazz all day you would want so real music at night. Jazz music and boiler factories both furnish bad environment for the nervous system. Those who remember some of the songs of the 90's can hardly be called old-fashioned because they insist they were sweeter than the tuneless rasping of the modern day. If all new sons were as pleasant as Irving Berlin's, we would suffer less. But there are few Berlins.

Lord Coleridge, the distinguished English jurist who died recently, was buried in a coffin made of wood from a tree which he himself planted in his youth.

Mr. And Mrs. Shaner Receive Friends; Golden Wedding Day

Couple Receive A Large Purse Of Gold Donated By Family And Friends

Five Generations Present To Eat Huge Wedding Cake, Gift Of Shaner Sons

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 30. — Mr. and Mrs. William Shaner of Wiley Hill celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary yesterday, with open house here. The couple were married in Pulaski, by Squire J. F. Jackson, but moved to Ellwood City about 32 years ago.

Prominent among the many lovely and appropriate gifts which the couple received was a large purse of gold, which was made up by members of the family and friends, and a gold thimble from Mrs. Shaner's sisters.

A large tiered wedding cake, decorated in gold and white, was enjoyed by five generations in the family, and was the gift of the sons of the family. "Honorable W. E. Shaner and Sweetheart,
Pigeon-coop Hill, Ellwood City.
My good Friends:

In the first place I want to congratulate you two for the demonstration that it is possible for two people to live in companionship for fity long years, which is a rare thing now-a-days, and still be happy and contented, although you may have, occasionally, had 'helmit the cornet', but I know these occasions have been rare. And you may also have had some 'squawls' during your long voyage on the Sea of Matrimony, but methinks the voyage has been one of calm and serene duration, and my earnest wish is that the remaining years which may be given you may be as pleasant and happy as the ones which have preceded. Now I am very sorry it will be impossible for me to attend the functions marking the golden anniversary of your wedded life, but I am enclosing a little token for each of you, and I sincerely hope that each of you may have the full use of your faculties that you may enjoy the evening of life, as the Good Master would have His people do.

Very sincerely your Friend,

NEW CASTLE TO PLAY MARS SATURDAY

First Test For Locals Tomorrow

New Castle High Primed For Contest With Mars High; Reider Likely To Be Back In Line-Up For Locals; Seek To Avenge 0-0 Deadlock Of Last Year; Coach Hudson To Bring Team Here To Battle Red And Black Warriors; Expect Largest Crowd Of Year To Witness Schoolboy Team In Action; Game Is Scheduled To Start At 2:30 O'clock, Eastern Standard Time

By "BUGS" WALTHER

EVERY football fan in this man's domain is eagerly awaiting the choice gridiron morsel to be dished up at the Ben Franklin High Stadium on Saturday afternoon, when New Castle High football team will do battle with Mars High. The game is called for 2:30 o'clock.

New Castle High, with two victories neatly tucked away in the ice chest for future reference, in case the W. P. I. A. L. committee wishes to refer to them, will endeavor on tomorrow afternoon to run their string of consecutive wins to three. If the locals are to accomplish this fond desire, they must defeat one of the best schoolboy teams in this district.

Coach "Ham" Hudson will bring a strong team here, representing Mars High school. It will be recalled that last year the Butler county boys smeared the "dope bucket" into the next county by holding the red and black team to a 0-0 deadlock. A real barrier, this Mars High team, and the eleven will have to be taken seriously.

It is likely that New Castle High will present the same line-up that started the Grove City and Franklin contests, with the possible exception that Paul Reider, the young quarterback, may return to the game.

First Real Test

Tomorrow afternoon the locals will get their first real test of the year. It is true that Grove City and Franklin gave the boys plenty of opposition, but they had not hoped to defeat the Bridenbaugh coached machine. On the other hand, the Mars team is being groomed for a victory.

There is a lot of difference in the game when a team is playing to win and when a team is merely playing football with the intention of holding their opponents to as low a score as possible. Opposition tends to make good contests any time.

Mars High was not altogether satisfied with that 0-0 tie last season. They had hoped to "scalp" the red and black combination. Now that one year has passed, they will journey here with the same intention, only there will be that rival bitterness back of it all.

Outside of the deadlock with New Castle last year, the Mars team did not lose a single battle. That's a fine record for the small school, and they have cause to be justly proud of their achievement.

Both teams are confident that this year's battle will not be a tie, in which case both teams would be automatically out of the running for the western Pennsylvania championship.

Pupil vs. Teacher

A peculiar incident connected with the Mars-New Castle game is the fact that it will be another pupil against teacher act, with Coach Hudson the pupil and Coach Bridenbaugh the teacher. Hudson matriculated at Geneva College and learned his football from the "old fox". In the game last fall the Mars team used many of the same plays that the New Castle team had been using and also practically the same system of attack.

The New Castle team has undergone some mighty strenuous workouts this week in preparation for the Mars game, and they are in the "peak of condition" as the word goes. Coach Bridenbaugh has given the boys some new plays and they will dwell on them in the practice session scheduled for this afternoon. New Castle finished their scrimmage sessions on Thursday afternoon with a two-hour rehearsal.

Not Over-Confident

New Castle will not be caught napping this year. The Mars team was underestimated one year ago and that condition has been entirely erased. Coach Bridenbaugh has instilled the fighting spirit into the squad and has instructed them to play the game tomorrow afternoon not unlike they would if the contest was a championship affair. Over-confidence has wrecked many a fine team.

The locals have the advantage over Mars. They have played two games this year, while the Butler countians have had but one contest. Experience counts a lot in this football business.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardned today announced the following officials for the Mars game: referee, Storey (Tufts); umpire, McClure (W. & J.) and head linesman, Parsons (Geneva).

The New Castle High line-up will likely be as follows: Ostrosky and Craft, at the ends; Cuba and Alexander, at the tackles; Thomas at center; Mooney and DiCarbo at the guards; Reider or Sillman at quarterback; Sillman, Fernati or Sage at right half; Richards at left half and Harper at fullback.

The following substitutes are likely to find their way into the game in case they are needed: Dinsmore, Beres, Burns, Kulich, Mike, Sherer, Howley and Ciccone.

WILMINGTON HIGH TO PLAY SHARON HIGH

Game At New Wilmington Will Attract Attention Saturday Afternoon

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 30. — Running his gridders through a light signal drill today, Coach Wiggins of the local high school ended the week of training for the game with Sharon High on the college field here tomorrow after at 2 o'clock. While the Sharon combine outweighs the local team by about 20 pounds to a man still the local fans think that after the fine showing made by the Blue and Gold eleven in last Saturday's tilt with Ellwood City that the speed of the lighter team will even up tomorrow's contest.

The weight average of the local team is about 133 while that of the Sharon combine is about 154. Neal will call signals for Wiggins' proteges while Conlin will be the brains of the Sharon gridmen. The lineup:

Here And There In Sports' Land

Hilario Martinez proved beyond the satisfaction of a doubt that he is no Spanish olive by handing a neat shellacking to the colorful Sid Terris at New York last night. The Spaniard socked Sid on the jaw in the second round and before the round was over Terris had been floored three times for counts of nine on each trip to the floor.

Testifying in New York yesterday Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, denied Teddy Hayes' charge and declared he had never hired Teddy as a secretary or a trainer. Dempsey seemed at ease while undergoing questioning. The suit was brought by Hayes to collect $25,000 he alleges is due him as salary.

Tom Heeny, the Australian heavy, and Jim Maloney, the Bostonian fight Friday night at Madison Square Garden. The big boys are carded to step 10 rounds. Recently Heeny fought two good fights with Paolina and the bout tonight will establish the fact as to whether or not Maloney has passed out of the heavyweight picture.

Paavo Nurmi, famous Finnish runner, is at odds with Finnish athletic authorities as a result of his refusal to run in the recent international meet at Stockholm. As a punitive measure permits will not be granted to Paavo to run in a meet to be held at Paris. Paavo got in trouble when he refused to race in the 5,000 and 10,000 meter events with Sweden.

Babe Herman paid $2,800 to a man in New York for 23 packages of chipped glass. The man told the Babe that they were "smuggled diamonds". The police are looking for the smuggler. A few more such things and Herman will have to start out all over again to amass a fortune in the ring.

Lee Shira's coon dog captured the coon chase at the Lawrence county fair frounds yesterday. The coon was led by Patsy Hayden and while Lee's dog was not the first to locate the "tree" near the judges' stand, the dog was the first to bark. Thirty-five hundred persons witnessed the coon chase.

Pirates Need Victory Today

Pittsburgh Pirates Can Win National League Flag By Downing Reds Today

BABE RUTH HITS TWO MORE HOMERS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Pittsburgh can clinch the pennant by defeating the Reds in Cincinnati today. Even if the Pirates lose all their three remaining games, they will get no worse than a tie if the Cardinals and Giants make a clean sweep in their two and three games respectively.

The Cardinals passed out of the picture when they lost to the Reds yesterday, 3 to 2, while Pirates and Giants were idle. Frankhouse, star St. Louis rookie, allowed only five hits but suffered his first defeat in the big league when he made a wild throw. Frisch's homer failed to help the Cards, who could make but little headway against Jakie May.

With their pennant hopes practically ruined, the Cardinals must now travel at a fast pace to ward off the rush of the Giants. New York can tie the Red Birds for second place by beating Brooklyn today as St. Louis does not play.

Climaxing a home run rampage of unprecedented proportions, Babe Ruth smacked two homers and tied his 1921 record of 59. One came with the bases full, the second with such a setting in two successive games. Ruth has hit for the circuit with the bases loaded only seven times in his entire career.

Although throughout the country Ruth's home run hitting is attracting almost as much interest as the hot National league race, only 7,500 fans turned out here yesterday to watch the Babe.

The King of Klout also whanged a ferocious triple and a long fly which almost went into the bleachers. The Yankees won the ball game 15 to 4, for victory No. 108. They tagged Lisenbee and Marberry for 19 hits just as batting practice for the world series.

Jack Bradley, rookie pitcher obtained by the Red Sox from Waterbury, Conn., held the slugging Athletics to five hits and tirmmed them 6 to 1. Another recruit hurler, Ray Miller, whom the Phillies got from Syracuse, N. Y., beat the Braves 7 to 1.

WESTMINSTER TEAM LEAVES FOR BUFFALO

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 30. — Taking a special bus at 12:30 o'clock today the Westminster football team left for Buffalo where they meet the University of Buffalo gridders at Rotary field, Buffalo, Saturday afternoon. While in the Bison City the Blue and White team will stay at the Lennox hotel, and following the game they will leave for Niagara Falls. As many of the boys on the team have never seen the falls, special arrangements were made to take the team on such a tour following the game.

Twenty players took the trip with the coaches and two student managers. The players who will represent Westminster in Buffalo are: Lauder, Boone, Smith, Ayers, Furno, Dombrowsky, Sweet, Matchin, Tweedie, McQuiston, Hall, O'Donovan, Havrilla, Dible, Campbell, Crowell, Kruger, Kelly, McCullough, and Wrigley. Student managers Bovard and Lewis will take care of the team while away.

Penn's Busy Season

By Feg Murray

There are football schedules, and football schedules. Then there is Penn's football schedule! Too bad that there aren't more Saturdays in October and November; then the individuals who sign up opponents for the Quaker eleven could get in Notre Dame, Michigan, Alabama, Stanford and Southern California. Or maybe Princeton, the Army and Minnesota.

Please run your eye down the list of games scheduled for poor Father Penn in 1927. Those twin playmates Franklin and Marshall have come and gone, and little Swarthmore is entertained at Franklin field next Saturday. Then the fun begins. Brown, Penn State, Chicago, Navy, Harvard and Columbia follow on successive Saturdays, all at Philadelphia except the Chicago game, for which Lou Young's pupils must skip out to the Windy City. There is no game on November 19, as Penn's big contest—that is to say, the one around which the most tradition hovers—is the annual Thanksgiving day game with Cornell at Philadelphia on the following Thursday. Well, the boys will need 12 days' rest after six games in succession with major varsities like those mentioned.

You'd think they'd be through then, wouldn't you? Princeton is through after the Yale game on Nov. 12. But no, after fighting it out with "Cornell, I yell" and then with the mid-winter examinations, the Red and Blue team must entrain for a 3,000-mile journey to the Pacific coast for a New Year's tussle with the California Bears.

But cheer up, Father Penn! When you dissect the schedule, you'll find that it isn't so bad at is looks. The Navy is weak this year, Penn State and Chicago had nothing last year, a lot of Brown's "Iron-Men" are gone and Columbia and Cornell are not exactly first class teams. But that Harvard game should be a pip.

Feg Murray Says—

McIntyre and Heath made their letters in football at Michigan last year. I expect to hear any minute that Kolb and Dill, Gallagher and Shean and Weber and Fields are trying out for their "M's" as well as their laughs this coming fall.

Tri-State Grid Teams Ready For Saturday Games

Westminster-Buffalo Game Headlines On Saturday Afternoon

GROVE CITY-PITT GAME ATTRACTIVE

Another week of rehearsal behind them finds the tri-state college grid teams ready for more conflicts. Tomorrow afternoon several of the leading teams in this section will tread the greensward in search of football victories.

Westminster college with one of the finest looking grid squads that has represented the United Presbyterian school in a number of years, will journey up to Buffalo, N. Y., to try conclusions with the University of Buffalo team. The Blue and White team is the favorite to win this engagement. The showing made by the Beede coached machine at Youngstown last week when they held Tech to a 25 to 0 score, forebodes a Westminster victory tomorrow.

Grove City college will pry off its 1927 cover tomorrow afternoon at the Pitt stadium when it meets the Pitt Panthers. Coach Jock Sutherland has let it be known that he fears the Mercer countians, mainly due to the fact that Charlie Berry, former Lafayette star, is the coach at Grove City this year. The Pitt team will defeat Grove City, but the writer does not look for any walkaway.

Carnegie Tech will battle Thiel college at Pittsburgh on Saturday, and the "Kilties" are of course the big favorites to upset the Lutherans. The Thiel team looked mighty good in the Pitt game last week, but they cannot hope to cope with the Techites.

Geneva vs. Bucknell.

Geneva college is biting off a "big chunk" tomorrow when they face Bucknell at Lewisburg. The Bucknell team is favored to win from Coach "Bo" McMillin and his "Golden Tornado."

Allegheny college will open the season tomorrow by taking on St. Bonaventure at Meadville. The St. Bonaventure team is favored to down the Methodists in this contest. The Methodists lost several stars through graduation last June and their team is somewhat weaker.

Duquesne university will entertain Broaddus at Pittsburgh tomorrow afternoon and the "Dukes" are given the preference in this combat. It is probable that Johnny Dufford and Robert Millison, former New Castle high tsars, will see service in this engagement.

Davis Walsh Selects New York Yankees To Win World's Series

International News Sport Editor Says Yankee Sluggers Will Decide Series

Pirates Need Good Lefthander To Cope With Ruth, Gehrig And Combs

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—Entering his still, small voice into the general hilarity, like a prayer at a bar mill, the writer desires to state today that he thinks the New York Yankees should win the world series of 1927. He is throwing out comparative hitting, fielding, base running and kindred appurtenances of those who like to arrive at a given point by way of the servants' entrance.

The respective infields are about a stand off ,anyhow. So are the outfields and the catching staffs. The Yanks have more power on attack, the Pirates greater versatility and speed. These departments will go along pretty much, as is, without much of a break either way and, if there is one, it probably will come from a quarter least expected. No one figured that George Rohe was going to get a lot of base hits in 1906 nor that Fred Snodgrass would drop the only fly ball really worth catching in 1912.

Pitching Big Factor.

However, you usually can put your finger on pitching and keep it there. This, the abiding factor in a long series, a short series and, in fact, all series, nearly always is consistent with the form sheets, particularly in a world series. The average performance, in fact, is better for the series than it is through the regular season.

The writer may be wrong, which, in truth, would be no great novelty, but he likes the Yankees in this most important of all departments. Therefore, everything else being equal, or nearly so, the Yanks should win.

Conditions, rather than the men themselves, would seem to give the Yankees the advantage here. Purely as pitchers, it is doubtful whether Hoyt, Pennock, Moore, Ruether and Shocker have much, if anything, on Hill, Kremer, Meadows, Aldridge and Miljus. But these are not men who are to engage in a mere throwing contest for accuracy, speed and the break on a curve ball. They must pitch only to a certain group of men whose hitting eccentricities either will favor or oppose the success of their deliveries.

For example, the three big men in the Yankee attack are Earl Coombs, who gets a lot of hits and is on the bases many times and oft; and Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the arch-sluggers. All are left hand hitters and the Pirates haven't a first class left hand pitcher in the outfit. Yde and Cvengros will get into the series only in a desperate emergency.

Great Array Of Hitters.

Of course, Ruth and Gehrig hit both kinds of pitching but they prefer right handers and they will get them in Hill, Kremer, Meadows, Miljus and Aldridge. On the other hand, a slow ball left hander can cause the entire Yankee array much embarrassment, as Bill Sherdel amply proved in the 1926 series.

Now, to revers the field, suppose we look at the other side of the debate. The Pirates, with right hand hitters like Wright, Traynor, Harris, Barnhart and Cuyler ready to go, are not exactly a club for which one would save a left hander. Yet, much of the club's punch is focused around Paul and Lloyd Waner. Both are left hand hitters and it will remain to be proved whether real good southpaws like Pennock and Ruether can cut into the efficiency of this run-producing combination. Grantham, the other Pirate regular, is almost inept against left handers.

Therefore, a switch of pitchers in a pinch might get Grantham out of the lineup entirely, to the detriment of the team's effiency.

No, the more one looks at it, the more one is convinced that, in versaticity and for purposes of strategy, the Yankees have the better pitching. Alexander stopped them with a screwball last year. Hill also throws this delivery but otherwise the Pirate staff seems to be pretty much straight away pitching. The Yanks, by comparison, have two good left handers; a curve ball expert in Hoyt; a man with a great "sinker" in Moore and a survivor of that dying race, the spitballer, in Shocker.

They should win and, that being the case, they probably won't.

Bonnie Betty Captures Trot

Three-Year-Old Beats Princess Alice Nysa Silk In Fourth Heat

GRUELLING RACE BY GAME HORSES

By ED FRITZ.

Bonnie Betty, bay filly, sired by Peter Potemkin, owned by F. W. Gamble, Bedford, O., and driven by Elmer Hoiser, proved a neat little surprise package, one teeming with gameness Thursday in the three year old and under trot, purse $500 and Vance cup at the fair track. She beat Nysa Silk, that good Crescent stable entry and Princess Alice, a brown filly from Akron in an extra heat race in 2:25 ½, though Bonnie Betty captured the third heat in 2:22, the best time for the mile.

But Bonnie had her work cut out for her to the three-quarters post in the extra heat as she was trailed closely on the back stretch a muddy track, by Princess Alice and Nysa Silk who had taken heats. When Bonnie Betty hit the three quarters post she drew away from the other game horses and came flying down the stretch to win by 20 yards while Princess Alice and Nysa Silk staged a spetacular battle for second place, Princess Alice winning from Nysa Silk driven by Ray McGeorge, by half a length.

Although the three year old was not supposed to be the banner event of the day it proved the feature and not one of the 3,000 spectators left the stands until the fourth heat had been run. To make Bonnie Betty's victory more beautiful it might be said she started with a lame left hind leg in the fourth heat and was the last horse getting away from the post. She hit her stride however, passing the field on the five-eights turn and after that she was "in."

It was a great race by game horses and keen drivers.

Track Heavy.

There were two other races on Thursday's card, a 2:18 pace (stake) purse $700 and Mather Bros. cup, won by Laura B. in 2:12¾ and 2:24 trot, (stake) purse $600 and McBride cup won by E. G. McKylo in 2:17. Both events were spirited contests and the winners were forced to step to capture the races.

The rain of Wednesday made the track heavy and threatening clouds loaned a dark aspect all afternoon. However the threatening gesture of Rain-In-The-Face did not materialize into actality although the mud made the going heavy on the back stretch.

In the first heat of the 2:18 pace Laura B. set the pace, but coming down the last eighth May Queen showed a burst of speed and won in 2:14¾. The second heat found the same horses fighting for first with Laura B ahead at the half but try as May Queen did she couldn't pass the brown mare who won the heat in 2:12¾. She won by the length of her body and that's all and att he last turn in the third heat Laura B. climbed ahead of the field and scored a win race in 2:13 for the third heat.

Six horses started in the 2:24 trot, (stake), purse $600 and McBride and Shannon cup. E. G. McKylo, a brown gelding by Peter McKylo owned by Oliver Cabanna Jr., of Pine Grove farms, Elma, N. Y., proved the class of the field and won in straight heats in 2:17. Senator Underwood was second, taking second in three heats and Silent Fleet landing third, finishing third in the first, fifth in the second and third in the last heat.

Class of Field.

In the first heat E. G. McKylo Todd Patch and Silent Fleet seemed the class of the field and the Pine Grove farm entry won the heat in 2.20. She went to the front ahead in the second heat followed by Todd Patch, High Grade and Silent Fleet. Todd Patch made a game fight to catch her coming down the stretch but failed while Senator Underwood who finished fourth in the first heat took third. The time was 2:20.

They turned in a mark of 2:17 for the third heat, taken by E. G. McKylo who's supremacy was tested by the entire field and when they passed the half mile mark they were bunched. At the three-quarters Allen sent he Pine Grove farm out in front followed by Helen Forbes and Senator Underwood was close behind but he started running on the back stretch hurting his chances

The field thundered down the home stretch with E. G. McKylo first, Todd Patch second, Silent Fleet third, High Grade, fourth and Senator Underwood was given last place for running. Helen Forbes did not enter the third heat having been drawn. The time was 2:17 or three seconds faster than the first two heats.

The races Wednesday and Thursday have been up to expectations, Ethel C. having broken the trot record for the New Castle track Wednesday and the three year old and under trot having been carried into four heats Thursday. Today there will be a running horse race with six entries in addition to the harness race card and it is anticipated that at least 3,500 spectators will collect in the stands.

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

Sport fable: Eastern college coach had a stroke. So he gave him a job with the rowing crew.

Then again there was that recent shell race affair. There was quite a row about it.

Dispatch says that New York Curb seat sold for $32,000. Gosh, and in this town a fellow can park smack up against a fireplug for only $25.

Connie Mack says that the Yankees are one of the greatest teams of all times. Is he first finding that out now?

The Indians are a downtrodden race. And after looking at Cleveland's final standing we agree.

It won't be long now until basketball dope starts dribbling in.

These cigarette testimonials sound like a lot of puffs.

Union High Meets Harrisville Today

Union Township High and Harrisville will clash this afternoon at Harrisville according to Coach Burnham who has been drilling Union High for a victory. The eleven looks good according to fans who are following Union High.

SORDS POINTS

Well, Mr. Stengel Sure Went And Did It

By JACK SORDS

Baseball fans are being treated to the pleasing spectacle of Casey Stengel, the old Giant hero, leading Toledo's Mud Hens, fresh from their first American association pennant, into the little world series against Buffalo.

After starting a slump that had all the earmarks of a nose dive such as that recently taken by the Chicago Cubs, Stengel righted his Mud Hens and now the northern Ohio town is fondling its very first pennant. The day the Mud Hens won Toledo went wild—and no wonder.

For better than a month before the season closed the Hens were riding high and dry in first place. Then something happened and before long Toledo was in second. But Stengel is a fighter. He was not to be denied his first pennant and came back only as Casey can. How well his efforts were appreciated is shown by his getting a contract to lead the Hens next year.

For a time the race in the association resembled the grand scramble of the National in the last days of the big league races. Toledo had to beat off Milwaukee up to the last day of the race and Kansas City was hovering near.

Stengel has been leading the Hens for the last two years and his teams have been humdingers. It remained for him to be the first to treat the fans to their first flag since entering the American association just 26 years ago.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

FANS WATCH THE PASSING OF TWO GREATEST SPORT HEROES

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Whatever else may be written of the sport year of 1927, it can be said now that it will mark in history the passing of two of the greatest sport idols, as well as stars, the athletic realm has worshiped—

Jack Dempsey and William T. Tilden.

The attribute that made both of these men great and popular is exemplified in the manner of their passing. They went down to final and lasting defeat fighting age, the toll of years of combat, and the overwhelming belief of the public that they were doomed to defeat. Both were game.

Tilden went first, a few short days before Dempsey.

Tilden lost two game attempts to retain the tennis supremacy and prestige that has been his. Singlehanded he tried to turn back the French team in the Davis cup matches. Playing both in the singles and doubles, he tried to check the onrushing youths from France and keep the cup in America.

He won his first singles match. He and Hunter held the foe at bay in the doubles. Then, within a point or two of victory in the last of the singles matches, he faltered. The pace was too hot. His heart couldn't carry his flesh.

The cup went abroad—for the first time in Tilden's seven or eight years of reign in the tennis world.

Then came the national championship tourney. Again Tilden faced the picked field of American and foreign stars and gamely tried to fight his way through to a victory once more. Again the pace was too hot.

Dempsey's fight to defy tradition, youth and his critics is fresher and possibly a bit more clear in the minds of the public. Regardless of whatever errors there may have been in handling him, Dempsey trained earnestly and tediously for his great effort to regain the heavyweight championship. His victory over Sharkey, young, cocky, clever, a few months back, had given him the confidence that he could accomplish that which had been tried before by ex-champions in his class without success—to win back the title.

His very popularity—the halo about his head, if you will—caused most of the rank and file to pray for his success. His standing in the sport world was indicated quite clearly by the fans at the last battle with Tunney, when they left the ring yelling to Jack in the hysterical hope that he could hear them say that he was "still the champion".

Dempsey goes into the past with the distinction of being the man who made the boxing sport a "big money" game for not only Tex Rickard and the opponents Jack met, but for Joe Spivis in Main street, who finds himself selling tickets for $5 each which once he peddled at $1 for the same kind of a fracas.

The deeds of Tilden and Dempsey will come back to us in history—and they can't be embellished much in the telling.

BOY SCOUTS NOT TO TAKE CHECK

Not Fair To Have Boys Work Free When Firm Is Being Paid

Lawrence county Boy Scouts will not conduct a check of traffic for the Morris Knowles company, recently awarded a contract by the city to conduct a traffic survey here, former Judge S. P. Emery, executive board member, told council today.

The attorney said that the boys would willingly be allowed to do it as a civic duty, for the city or civic organization but inasmuch as the Morris Knowles company is being paid to conduct the survey it would not be fair to have the boys do work free for which the company is being paid.

Maximilian and Juarez.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ABANDONED IN 1867 BY THE FRENCH MILITARY SUPPORT THAT HAD MADE HIM EMPEROR OF MEXICO THREE YEARS BEFORE, MAXIMILIAN FOUND HIMSELF IN A DANGEROUS PREDICAMENT. HE THOUGHT OF ABDICATING, BUT HIS WIFE, THE EMPRESS CHARLOTTE, PERSUADED HIM TO REMAIN.

MAXIMILIAN BELIEVED HIS THRONE WOULD NOT BE SECURE UNTIL HE HAD CRUSHED JUAREZ, HIS MOST DANGEROUS ENEMY. IN 1865, THE EMPEROR HAD ISSUED A DECREE DECLARING ALL JUARISTAS GUERILLAS AND BANDITS, WHO WHEN CAPTURED WERE TO BE COURT-MARTIALED AND SHOT.

THIS WAS A GREAT BLUNDER, AND WAS LATER TO SEAL MAXIMILIAN'S DOOM. SOON AFTER THE FRENCH TROOPS HAD LEFT MEXICO, THE EMPEROR WENT TO TAKE PERSONAL COMMAND OF HIS FORCES AT QUERETARO.

MEANWHILE (1866) THE EMPRESS CHARLOTTE HAD GONE TO FRANCE TO BEG NAPOLEON III TO AID MAXIMILIAN. THE FRENCH EMPEROR, HOWEVER, TURNED A DEAF EAR TO HER PLEAS, IN SEPTEMBER, 1866, WORRY OVER THE PERILS THAT SURROUNDED HER HUSBAND DROVE CHARLOTTE INSANE.

Farmers Stirred By Depredations Of 'Coons

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Southern Adirondack farmers are wrought up over the alleged indifference of the State Conservation Department to complaints that raccoons are causing damage to crops and taking heavy toll from hen roosts.

H. C. Ingraham of Pottersville has made public correspondence he has had with the department concerning a request that he be permitted to trap or destroy raccoons damaging his corn crop. Conservation officials refused on ground that it was a closed season for these animals and that they did not feel justified in making a special ruling in his case.

As the matter now stands the farmers can do nothing to protect their property until the open season and they strongly resent this situation. Chicken owners also are protesting against raids by raccoons which have things all their own way under present conditions. One man at North River lost twenty-nine hens in one night. Another lost eight. Both will have to swallow their losses.

British Lawn Tennis Turns To Hard Courts

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The French victory in the Davis cup is likely to cause British lawn tennis authorities to change their international policy.

The triumph of the Frenchmen has driven Britain, at last, to the hard court. The Davis cup matches next year will be played on hard courts and English players will have to cast away their fetish of the grass surface. And although the celebrated "Centre Court" at Wimbledon is regarded as the lawn tennis ideal, there is no doubt that the change will meet with the approval of the vast majority of tennis players in the British isles.

Even had it not been for the Davis cup results, the unprecedentedly wet summer in England has brought forth an agitation for the universal use of the hard court—particularly of the wood variety.

A BETTER METHOD.

Wicks was a wealthy man and had succumbed to the motor craze and bought a new car.

His neighbor was one of the first to view the new arrival when Wicks had driven it home from the garage.

"But how on earth can you get into a thing like that?" he asked, gazing doubtfully, first at Wicks' bulk and then at the baby car.

His friend gave him a superior smile.

"One doesn't get into it" retorted the genial Wicks. "One puts it on!"—From Answers, London.

The greatest thing the airplane has done for civilization is teach us to look up now and then.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Wall Street looked for an increase of at least $100,000,000 in brokers' loans in the Reserve Board's weekly report instead of the $22,000,000 increase reported after the close of yesterday's market. As the result, leading industrial stocks jumped 2 to 5 points in the early trading today, while the railroad stocks continued the aggressive forward movement which has been in progress since Tuesday.

The bearish professionals were left stranded in a few of the active stocks as prices were rushed up at the opening of the market. Houston Oil, which gained about 9 points yesterday opened at a further increase of 5 points at 163½, thus showing a gain of 14 points in the two sessions. General Motors sold at 264, up 4 points from the previous close and 8 points from Thursday's low. Mack Trucks, DuPont, U. S. Steel and other market leaders sold higher.

Erie's advance to above 67 for the common stock was the feature of the rail list.

HOLDS BROADCASTERS ON WAVE

This device, known as a piezo-oscillator, is used by radio stations as a "wave check" to keep them within the frequency band allotted the station by the federal radio commission. The piezo-oscillator, which generates a known frequency is used. When placed near a radio transmitter the intersecting beat of the oscillator and the transmitter is audible in the headphones. The operator then tunes the transmitter until the "beat note" is no longer audible and the set is "on the wave."

Iceland Parliament Thousand Years Old; Celebrate In 1930

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 30.—In 1930 Iceland will celebrate the millenary of her parliament, the Allthing.

It was in 930 that all the chief peasants and traders were called together to decide upon the new faith as against the Pagan Wpdan cult, with the result that Christianity was accepted by an overwhelming majority. The Allthing is thus the oldest democratic parliament in the world.

A coalition of the Peasant party and the Social Democrats are now in power in the Allthing. This government is facing the problem of stabilizing the currency, of building waterplants at the many and powerfull waterfalls, and of constructing rail and motor roads. A point of special interest is the government's intention to use, for industrial and domestic purposes, the warm water of the "geysers", the many natural fountains where boiling water spouts up.

Now that the flood refugees have gone back home, the country is heaving a sigh of content. One of the reasons why a flood refugee's real troubles begin when he quits being one.

Early Tammany Records To N. Y. Public Library

Old Minutes And Scrap Books From 1791 Are In Taylor Estate

Fun-Loving Crowd Used To Gather When Wigwam Was Far Downtown

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Days when Tammany Hall was more concerned with bringing cheer to its members than shouldering the political responsibilities of New York have been brought to light with the acquiring of the manuscript records of "The Great Wigwam," by the New York Public Library.

The word picture of Tammany in the days of its inception in 1791, came to the library from the estate of Douglas Taylor, one time sachem. It recalls the days when the wigwam met in the New York City Tavern at Broadway and the Battery. In those days, the manuscript tells us, the members were more concerned to toasting the president lengthy "collations" and romantic anecdotes created by their own fertile minds than any of the more serious phases of life.

From this mass of secretary's minutes, accounts and scrap-books, can be gleaned a vivid impression of the meetings of the oldest political organization in America.

Fun Loving Crowd

It was a fun loving crowd that gathered together to smoke peace-pipes and promote historical and literary interest in this city, a crowd not unlike Dr. Johnson and his cronies of the London Cheshire Cheese. Certainly political ambitions and strife were far removed from them compared as they were, until 1800, of Federalists, as well as democratic-republicans.

"The story told tonight included 'The Apothecary and the Rats', 'The Sailor and His Girl' and others,' read the minutes of one meeting while the subjects for debates mentioned therein are equally unprovocative. The following is an example:

"Whether preaching or satire is the best device to rid us of the vices of mankind.

"Whether any such thing as innate affection is implanted in the human breast."

When the Wigwam moved from the Battery to Brom Martling's Tavern at Frankfort and Nassau streets, in 1798, long accounts of the feasts served by Martling (at 75 cents per plate) occupied much space in the official record. Occasional, this reporter found, there were references to political discussions, entered into as lightly as were the social and literary talks.

Discuss Slavery

"Would prohibition of slave trade interfere with our West Indian commerce?" and "Would a people's convention, either in harmony with or opposed to the administration, be legal?" Nowhere in the minutes could the reporter find decisions to the debates.

"You can trace the birth of the nominating convention in these documents," said Carl L. Cannon librarian in discussing the manuscript. "Little by little you can see, as the years go by the steadily increasing change in the character of the wigwam."

While the records are not entirely complete, Mr. Cannon said, the minutes from 1791 to 1808 and 1814 to 1817 are unbroken. The committee reports have many gaps in them. They were acquired by auction from the estate of Taylor, who died twenty-five years ago. They will not be on public exhibition, but are available to all students and writers desiring to trace the history of the Tammany organization.

Finds Her Brother Through A Dream

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 30.—Forty years ago a sister and brother, three and six respectively, were separated when their parents died in West Virginia. For a while their whereabouts were known to each other, but twenty-five years ago letters to the brother were returned and he was believed dead.

One night, several months ago, Mrs. Robert Eaken of Sudbury, O., said she dreamed she saw a man asking questions and that he was her brother, who had last been heard of from Ashport, Tenn. She wrote to the Postmaster at Ashport, inquiring if he knew of an L. L. Jones and received a reply that a man by that name lived across the Mississippi River in Tomato, Ark. Correspondence developed that they were sister and brother.

Mrs. Eaken was visiting her brother and his family today.

Mills Of Justice Wait; Squire Goes To Fair

Like those of the gods, the mills of justice grind slow and sometimes they stop entirely. But the 'Squire wanted to see the fair.

The story, as told to Squire J. Lee Cooper, was rather long. It concerned a man who brought another man home with him all intent on making his wife give him his car. The wife, however, thought differently. Not until he paid his taxes, she declared would she give him his car. And so, her husband brought out a pair of handcuffs and was going to truss her up when she called in a neighbor woman to help her.

But even that was not enough. The neighbor woman, when she came into the house, was seized by the man and forced to sit down on the couch while they talked to her.

"I have been in New Castle for 40 years," mourned the neighbor, "but this is the first time that any man dared to lay hands on me. And so, I want justice."

The man in the case, it seems, denied everything. Yes, he said, it is true that he brought another man home with him to help him get the car, but neither of them even threatened the women. And that is how the case stood before the 'Squire.

But the fair was calling. After scratching his sandy hair, 'Squire Cooper told them to go consult a lawyer and to do what he advised. And anyway, said the 'Squire, it's fair day for me. That settled it. Still arguing the woman, the neighbor and the erring husband left the office.

Then the 'Squire grinned at an observer. "Even the most serious cases" he laughed, "have their humorous aspects."

Cranking up his car the 'Squire was off for the fair
